USES ARMY AS A TOOL OF STATECRAFT: REPORT

China is increasingly using the People's Liberation Army as an instrument of statecraft as it has adopted more coercive and aggressive actions in the Indo-Pacific region, says the US Department of Defense's annual report to Congress. The report adds that Beijing is ramping up its nuclear arsenal and is likely to have at least 1,500 nuclear warheads by the year 2035

Economic growth slows to 6.3% in Q2, RBI spot on

Manufacturing, mining sectors drag growth, contracting 4.3% and 2.8%, respectively

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

INDIA's economic growth is in line with the Reserve Bank of India's projection, government data released on Wednesday showed. However, GDP growth at 6.3% in the three-month period of July-September slowed when compared with 8.4% growth registered in the same quarter a year ago and 13.5% during April-June 2022.

A relatively slower GDP expansion nothwithstanding, India continues to remain the fastest-growing major economy ahead of China, which registered an economic growth of 3.9% in July-September 2022.

"Real GDP or GDP at constant (2011-12) prices in Q2 2022-23 is estimated at ₹38.17 lakh crore, as against ₹35.89 lakh crore in Q2 2021-22, showing a growth of 6.3% as compared to 8.4% in Q2 2021-22," the National Statistical Office (NSO) said while releasing the data for the second quarter on Wednesday.

The latest GDP growth data is impressive, according to Chief Economic Advisor V Anantha Nageswaran. He said India is very much on track to achieving 6.8-7% growth in the current financial year. The country has managed to maintain robust growth momentum despite challenges in the global economy, he added. This, he said, can be gauged from various economic indicators including festival sales, PMI (purchasing managers' index), bank credit growth and auto sales data.

According to the data released by the CSO, the manufacturing and mining sectors dragged the growth rate, contracting 4.3% and 2.8%, respectively.

The data also showed that private consumption eased sequentially (0.5% in the September quarter vs 0.8% in June quarter) due to high inflation and uneven recovery impacting rural consumption demand. Government consumption momentum continued to contract, though investment in asset creation witnessed robust sequential growth of 5% against 1.0% in the previous quarter due to lagged effects of easier monetary policies and the government's capex push.

KICKBACKS FROM SOUTH GROUP

AAP got ₹100 cr from Kavitha, others in liquor scam, says ED

SHAHID FARIDI @ New Delhi

THE Enforcement Directorate on Wednesday said the key accused in the Delhi excise policy scam, Vijay Nair, received kickbacks worth at least ₹100 crore from what it called the 'South Group' "controlled by Sarath Reddy, K Kavitha and Magunta Srinivasulu Reddy". The kickbacks were received by Nair on behalf of Aam Aadmi Party leaders, some of whom are in government, the agency alleged.

This is the first time Kavitha's name is being mentioned on record by the probe agency. A member of the legislative council in Telangana, she is the daughter of TRS founder and Chief Minister K Chandrashekar Rao.

In an application filed in a local court seeking remand for businessman Amit Arora, arrested on Tuesday, the ED said: "PMLA (Prevention of Money Laundering Act) investigations revealed that the Delhi Excise Policy 2021-22 was a device created by the leaders of AAP, some of whom are part of the Delhi government, to generate illegal funds at the cost of the state exchequer. The policy was formulated with deliberate loopholes, inbuilt mechanisms to facilitate illegal activities… it promoted cartel formation through back door, awarded exorbitant wholesale (12%) and high retail (185%) profit margins and incentivised other illegal activities…"

The ED said: "The 12% profit margin to the wholesalers was devised to extract half of it as a kickback to the AAP leaders. As per the investigation carried so far, Vijay Nair, on behalf of leaders of AAP has at least received kickbacks to the tune of ₹100 crore from a group called South Group… The same has been disclosed by the arrestee, Amit Arora."

The agency said, "in order to facilitate kickbacks, Amit Arora in conspiracy with others played a key role in arm-twisting wholesalers in Delhi business and getting their L1 licenses surrendered. The same business was then directed to such wholesalers — in connivance with Amit Arora — who were agreeable to pay the 6% commission to AAP leaders/Vijay Nair."

The ED remand application for Amit Arora said, "he has been instrumental in connecting the cartels of manufacturer/wholesaler/ retailer to the political leadership and facilitating 6% kickbacks by working closely with Dinesh Arora and Vijay Nair who were working on behalf of AAP leaders."

The agency said "Vijay Nair is not an ordinary worker of AAP but a close associate of Arvind Kejriwal, the CM of Delhi. Vijay Nair, as per his statement under Section 50 of PMLA, 2002, functions from the camp office of Arvind Kejriwal, CM, Delhi. Further, Vijay Nair, since 2020, has been residing in a government bungalow allotted to a Cabinet minister of Delhi government, Kailash Gehlot, part of the GOM of Excise Policy 2021-22…"

SUSPECTS DESTROYED 170 DIGITAL DEVICES

The ED said dozens of accused/suspects destroyed 170 digital devices to hide evidence in the liquor scam, which ran into "thousands of crores". The agency has so far recovered 17 of them and is working on recovering more devices. Amit Arora has been sent for seven days of custodial interrogation by the ED

WITH POLLS COME PROJECTS

Most parts of B'luru-Mys Expressway to open in Jan

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

COME January 2023, most of the carriageway on the Bengaluru-Mysuru Express Corridor will be opened. Prime Minister Narendra Modi is likely to inaugurate it in the first week of March next year.

In March 2014, the Union Ministry of Surface Transport had announced that some roads across the country would be upgraded to NH, and Bengaluru-Mysuru road was one of them. NHAI is converting the highway (NH 275) into 10 lanes, including a six-lane expressway. The 117-km highway -- stretching from NICE entrance in Bengaluru to Ring Road Junction in Mysuru -- is expected to cut travel time from an average of three hours to just 90 minutes. The distance between the state capital and Mysuru is around 140 km. The entire stretch is expected to have two toll gates and Rs 200 to Rs 250 will be charged at each toll.

Earlier this year, Union Minister for Roads and Highways Nitin Gadkari had tweeted about the 10-lane Bengaluru-Mysuru Express Corridor. P7

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

AHEAD of the assembly polls which are scheduled to be held early next year, the state government has started work on the Rs 600 crore 'Anubhava Mantapa' project in Bidar. The project was in cold storage for the last two years after former CM B S Yediyurappa laid its foundation stone in January 2021. The government's move is being seen as an attempt to woo the Lingayat voters from Kalyan Karnataka region.

The Anubhava Mantapa, set up by 12th century reformer Basaveshwara is considered to be the 'first Parliament of the world'. The project, which aims at promoting the teachings of Basaveshwara, was first proposed in 2016 by the then Siddaramaiah-led Congress government in the state. P6

CASE IN HIGH COURT

We've moved SC for order to hold BBMP polls: SEC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

OBJECTING to the state government's request to extend issuing of notification of reservation for BBMP wards by three months, the State Election Commission (SEC) on Wednesday told the Karnataka High Court that it has approached the Supreme Court seeking directions to the state government to hold the elections to Bruhat Bangalore Mahanagara Palike (BBMP).

The SEC said the time sought by the state government is unreasonable and unjustified and would appear to have been made only to prolong and delay the BBMP elections beyond May 2023. It submitted that the Assembly elections would be due before May 2023 and if the schedule is declared, BBMP elections would be indefinitely postponed. This would run counter to the constitutional mandate under Article 243-E(3), the SEC narrated in its objections.

KN Phanindra, a senior counsel representing the SEC, told the court that the Supreme Court will take up the matter soon.

After the submission, Justice Hemant Chandangoudar adjourned the hearing to December 6, 2022. The court took up the interlocutory application filed by the state government to seek an extension by three months from the deadline of November 30, 2022 fixed by the high court to issue reservation notification after receiving data from the panel constituted to determine political reservations to backward classes.

The SEC appealed to the high court to reject the state government's request. "Since the Supreme Court is monitoring the matter and has stipulated the specific time for issuance of delimitation and reservation notifications, it would be appropriate that the application filed by the state government be rejected and liberty be given to the state government to seek such extended time from the Supreme Court," the SEC added.

Kirloskar was rushed to Manipal Hosp

Doctors declared him dead 14.5 hours later at 10 pm, despite efforts to revive him

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

A visionary and eminent industrialist, Vice chairman of Toyota Kirloskar Motor and CMD of Kirloskar Systems, Vikram Kirloskar, died of cardiac arrest on Tuesday night at Manipal Hospital, in Bengaluru. He was 64.

He is survived by his wife Geetanjali Kirloskar and daughter Manasi Kirloskar.

According to the hospital, he was brought to the emergency department at Manipal Hospital in Hebbal in an unresponsive state at around 7.30 am on November 29. He was found to have a cardiac arrest and thus resuscitation as per Advanced Cardiac Life Support (ACLs) was initiated. He was found to be suffering ventricular fibrillation (a type of irregular heart rhythm) resulting in below-normal levels of oxygen in the blood and higher levels of acids in body fluids. The attempts to resurrect him included administering controlled electric shocks to restore normal heart rhythm.

"He was put on Extracorporeal Membrane Oxygenation (ECMO) support (in which blood is pumped out to a heart-lung machine to remove carbon dioxide and send oxygen-filled blood back to body tissues) and shifted to CCU," the hospital said.

He was attended to by the cardiologist, cardiothoracic and vascular surgeons, neurologists and a team of doctors in critical care during resuscitation and also during the entire treatment. Electroencephalogram (EEG), a test to measure electrical activity in the brain, was also conducted in the presence of a neurologist, but it showed no brain activity.

He gradually went into bradycardia (slow heart rate), but despite resuscitation, could not be revived. He was declared dead at 10 pm on November 29, 2022, the hospital spokesperson said.

The management of Kirloskar group tweeted the news of his demise at 12.50 am on Wednesday. Vikram Kirloskar was cremated at the Hebbal Crematorium on Wednesday afternoon.

The Kirloskar Brothers Limited twitter handle read: "We are deeply saddened and express our deepest condolences on (the) passing of Vikram Kirloskar."

The Kirloskar family hails from the Dharwad region and had made Bengaluru their home. They resided near Hebbal. Toyota Kirloskar Motor was established in October 1997 in Bidadi, commencing production in December 1999.

Basavaraj Bommai, Chief Minister: Heartfelt condolences on the sad & untimely demise of one of the stalwarts of India's automotive industry, Vice Chairperson of Toyota Kirloskar Motor, Shri Vikram Kirloskar. May his soul rest in peace. May God grant the family & friends the strength to bear this loss. Om Shanti.

Parent groups ask for better sex education in schools

Bengaluru: Parent groups are seeking better sex education in schools, in light of condoms and contraceptives being found in schoolbags. "Children do not understand what they are doing wrong due to lifestyle changes, constant exposure to technology, fluctuations in hormones and a lack of knowledge between 'good touch' and 'bad touch'," said the Karnataka Private School College Parents' Associations Coordination Committee chief in a letter to Education Minister B C Nagesh.

Waqf Board to set up 10 schools, colleges in state

Bengaluru: The Karnataka Waqf Board has announced plans to set up 10 schools and colleges across the state, at a cost of Rs 25 crore. Waqf Board chairman Shafi Sadi said the decision to set up the schools and colleges was not related to the hijab controversy that engulfed the state earlier this year. "This had been announced around 5-6 months ago. A total of Rs 25 crore has been allotted for these educational institutions," he said.

Tenants at IMA flats told to vacate in week, pay rent

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

THE Revenue department has issued notices to 'tenants' living in posh apartments built by ponzi firm IMA, asking them to vacate within a week. IMA was floated by fraudster Mansoor Khan.

Mohammed Yasir, tenant at Park Road Apartment in Tasker Town, near Queens Road, said like him, hundreds of tenants in different apartments built by IMA were served notices by the Yelahanka tahsildar on November 23, asking them to vacate. The reason is that the five-year rental agreement condition put forth by the Competent Authority had ended. "The Authority scrapped the lease agreement entered into with IMA, and replaced it with a rental agreement, where the 'tenant' has to pay Rs 40,000 a month till the completion of 60 months. On Tuesday, officials told the Competent Authority to give Rs 8 lakh to one or two remaining people who had gone to court. Once the amount is settled, I will have to vacate in a week's time," said Yasir.

He said he had paid Rs 30 lakh and now has to settle for Rs 8 lakh due to a change in the agreement condition. He also has to pay up Rs 3 lakh as penalty for entering into an illegal agreement with IMA to move into the apartment.

Yelahanka tahsildar Anilkumar Arolikar told TNIE that one or two government officials serving in the police department are staying on lease here, and have partially vacated the flats. One of the tenants who went to court, too, will vacate. Once the remaining tenants vacate the premises, the eight posh flats will be in the Revenue department's possession.

Some of the owners, who did not wish to be named, cursed the promoter Mansoor Khan, who is out on bail in the multi-crore IMA scam.

AIDSO slams govt for stopping scholarships to minority students

ENS @Bengaluru

THE Central government's move to withhold pre-matric scholarships for minority students studying in classes from 1 to 8 has come under criticism from All India Democratic Students Organisation (AIDSO).

AIDSO hit out at the decision accusing the government of unnecessarily targeting minority students. "The government's move has deprived a large number of students from availing the scholarships. Already, the schools are in a very deplorable condition due to lack of hostel facilities, no proper maintenance, absence of basic amenities and students being left out of many schemes. A large number of poor children cannot afford school fees and drop out," the organisation said.

AIDSO also pointed out that the withholding of the scheme also shows the negligence on the part of the government. "Stopping schemes meant for students on one pretext or another exposes the government's negligence towards pubic education," it stated.

The Centre had on Tuesday announced that scholarships for minority students would be stopped. It said that students in that age-group were entitled to compulsory education, which was the responsibility of the government. "The Right to Education (RTE) Act, 2009, makes it obligatory for the government to provide free and compulsory elementary education (classes I to VIII) to each and every child. Accordingly, only students studying in classes IX and X are covered under the Pre-Matric Scholarship Scheme of Ministry of Social Justice & Empowerment and Ministry of Tribal Affairs. Likewise from 2022-23, the coverage under the scholarship scheme will also be extended to students of classes IX and X only," stated a notice issued by the National Scholarship Portal.

Fog delays 33 departures from KIA

ENS @Bengaluru

DUE to foggy conditions at Kempegowda International Airport (KIA) on Wednesday morning, an IndiGo flight (6E 2067) from Delhi to Bengaluru was diverted to Hyderabad. In addition, 33 flights, both international and domestic, departing from Bengaluru were delayed by hours, both due to bad weather conditions and the cascading effect of the morning delay felt throughout the day, according to Bangalore International Airport Limited (BIAL).

Among the destinations to which flights were delayed were Kuwait, Ahmedabad, Mumbai, Delhi, Chennai, Jodhpur, Lucknow, Visakhapatnam, Mangaluru, Kochi, Bhubaneswar and Hyderabad. There was no impact of the fog on arriving flights, said a BIAL source. The South Runway is CAT-III compliant, which means it can operate flights at very low visibility too. The source explained that a minimum visibility of 150 metres was required for flights to take off.

PETER VIDAL

01ST December : Traditionally this is a day of good fortune. The French call it Jeudi, after Jupiter, the king of the gods in Roman myth. In English it's Thursday, after Thor, Jupiter's closest Scandinavian equivalent. In India it is Guru but, whatever the country, the day is related to Jupiter, planet of big-hearted opportunities.

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
One set of planets is decidedly hard-nosed, another looks somewhat self-indulgent. This is all very well if your business is pleasure, or vice-versa, but not suitable for those facing a limited routine. If there's any way in which you can persuade a colleague to see the error of their ways then have a go, but with extreme tact.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
The Moon is now swinging into a position which is unhelpful, though necessary. In other words, you may have to take a good long, deep breath and resign yourself to doing something you thought could be put off, perhaps for good. It might actually be much easier to deal with than you thought.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
The whole future is now looking very much brighter, especially if you are angling for adventurous solutions and opportunities. My one word of advice would be to keep an eye on the legal angle, lest you overstep the mark. The last thing you should do is upset people in authority.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
All financial sectors of your chart are now looking dynamic, and also a little stressful. The conditions are therefore ideal for a break with the past, but first you will have to bail out of one particular commitment. Try to set yourself free without letting other people down.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
Partners have shed tears of joy as well as of sadness. In fact, you have achieved much that is worthwhile. Continuing in a generally celebratory mood, now looks like a good moment to pull out all the stops, aim for the very best - and thank your lucky stars!

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
The Sun, Mercury and Venus are a pretty lively trio of planets, but some features of your chart indicate that you may be in a languid or lethargic mood. If you try to force the pace, then you may overlook certain vital details and get off to a false start.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
You may still be determined to keep yourself to yourself, but do let everyone know what you're up to. Does that sound contradictory? If so, it's because you can now have your cake and eat it. Remember, though, to say only the right things to the appropriate people.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
There is a great deal to be said for looking more closely at family relationships. If you suspect that someone is holding something back, why don't you take the initiative and get them to talk about it? You might find they're relieved that you've raised uncomfortable questions.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
It is impossible to talk about today's stars in isolation, for you are now on a limited cycle of relatively lively proposals and suggestions. It may seem at first sight that other people are becoming slightly difficult, but a closer inspection will reveal that this is not the case.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Those two mighty planets, Saturn and Jupiter, have such a long-term role in your chart that you sometimes fail to notice their daily impact. However, right now you should latch on to any unusual ideas, especially if they're unashamedly romantic, or just plain weird and wonderful.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Don't confuse liberty with license. In other words, just because everything is about to go your way, don't forget your many responsibilities to other people, not to mention promises which still need to be fulfilled. A partner is waiting for you to keep your word.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
A number of potent planets are teaming up in such a way as to suggest that a new social commitment is coming in your direction. We can't say fairer than that! Ideally, friends and associates are about to recognise your utterly unique and special gifts - and about time, too.

Driver held for raping woman inside school bus

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE driver of a school bus has been arrested on charges of raping a woman inside the bus under Chandra Layout police station limits on Tuesday evening. The victim was waiting for a bus at a bus stop in Nayandahalli. The accused, while passing by the junction, saw the victim and stopped the bus and told her that he would drop her home.

As the driver was reportedly known to the woman, she got into the bus at around 5.30 pm. Except for the driver, there was nobody else in the bus. The driver identified as Shiva Kumar is alleged to have drove the bus on the service road near Shree Male Mahadeshwara Swamy Gudi in Nagarbhavi 2nd stage 10th block. He is alleged to have attacked her before raping her. By taking the picture of the bus on her mobile phone, the woman called her son and informed him about the assault.

The son immediately rushed to the spot.

"Both the accused and the woman's son had a fight in the public. Some passerby informed the matter to the jurisdictional Chandra Layout police about the fight. The police, after rushing to the spot, took both the men to custody and subsequently got to know about the rape. The driver was arrested immediately," said the police.

The police have subjected both the woman and the accused for the mandatory medical test.

VOTER DATA THEFT SCAM

POLICE DETAIN 2 MORE CHILUME STAFF

Duo helped main accused in 'tampering' of data; Total number of arrests now rises to 13

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ BENGALURU

THE ongoing investigation into the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) voter data tampering case has led to two more staff of the tainted NGO Chilume being taken into detention. Officers from Halasuru picked up Maruti Gowda and Abhishek from the city outskirts.

The two are said to have assisted the main accused, Ravikumar, for alleged impersonation and tampering of data. The two detainees were later arrested.

"Based on circumstantial evidence and records, we secured Gowda and Abhishek from outside the city on Wednesday, and arrested them after investigation. The accused will be produced in court on Thursday." said an officer from Halasuru Gate station. With this, the total number arrested by Central Division police over the voter data tampering case has gone up to 13 so far. Officers who received complaints from BBMP officials initially arrested two Chilume staff, Dharmesh and Renuka Prasad, and later four BBMP revenue officials were arrested.

It is said that Chilume staff impersonated Booth Level Officers and were helped by BBMP officials with fake ID cards. Opposition parties accused them of removing minority votes and non-BJP voters' names from the list.

With the developments damaging its image, the Election Commission also suspended Additional Electoral Registration Officer S Rangappa and K Srinivas. Sources in the police department say notices will be issued to the two officers to face a probe.

Final voters' list to be released on Jan 5: CEO

After receiving objections and claims, the final electoral rolls will be released on 5 January, 2023. As the electoral process in three assembly segments led to controversy, the CEO said that the period for submission of claims and objections for Shivaginagar, Chikpete and Mahadevpura have been extended till 24 December 2022 and the revised schedule of these three constituencies will be provided later.

BOMMAI FOLLOWS UP ON K'TAKA'S WATER PROJECTS WITH UNION MINS

But CM fails to meet party top leaders to discuss filling up of six vacancies in his cabinet

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru, Belagavi

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai wrapped up his two-day visit to New Delhi on Wednesday after meeting Union ministers over the state's key irrigation projects, including the Upper Bhadra, third phase of Upper Krishna, Mekedatu balancing reservoir and Kalasabanduri.

He appealed to Union Jalshakti Minister Gajendra Singh Shekhwat to issue no-objection certificates and clearances to help the state take up the projects.

Bommai updated Shekhawat about the status of Jal Jeevan Mission (JJM) of providing piped water to rural households that is being implemented intensively in Karnataka.

Union Minister of State for Chemicals and Fertilisers Bhagwanth Khuba, Karnataka Water Resources Minister Govind Karjol and Chief Minister's Principal Secretary Manjunath Prasad were present. It was Bommai's 13th visit to Delhi after becoming chief minister. This time, however, he could not meet the party top leaders, including national president JP Nadda, to discuss the expansion of his cabinet as they were busy campaigning in Gujarat, where the first phase of elections will be held on Thursday. He held discussions with state counsel Mukul Rohatgi on the state's border dispute with Maharashtra. Though the case was listed before the Supreme Court for Wednesday, it did not come up for hearing as the Constitution bench continued hearing another case, source said.

He paid a courtesy visit to President Droupadi Murmu at Rashtrapati Bhavan.

Bommai calls on Nariman

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and Water Resources Minister Govind Karijol paid a courtesy visit to eminent jurist Fali S Nariman at the latter's residence in New Delhi on Wednesday and thanked him for his immense contribution in defending the state in inter-state water disputes for three decades.

Nariman, who is 94 years old, recalled the challenges the legal team led by him faced in the Supreme Court and the inter-state water tribunals.

He recollected the services of many engineers and bureaucrats who assisted the legal team. Nariman remembered former PM HD Deve Gowda, former minister HK Patil, MB Patil and former chief minister SM Krishna.

Senior advocate Mohan Katarki, Additional Chief Secretary Rakesh Singh and Chairman of Technical Committee Anil Kumar Marali accompanied Bommai.

Maha appoints chief for border panel

With the Karnataka-Maharashtra boundary dispute case expected to come up before the Supreme Court anytime soon, the Maharashtra government nominated Dhairyasheel Mane, an MP from Ichalkaranji, as chairman of the Maharashtra Border Advisory Committee on Wednesday.

For several years, senior leader ND Patil had served as chairman of the committee and was later replaced by Jayant Patil during the term of Maha Vikas Aghadi government headed by Uddhav Thackeray. The post was vacant ever since the Uddhav Thackeray government was toppled.

Mantapa to have 6 floors

LATER, in 2019, it was approved by the state cabinet during then CM B S Yediyurappa's tenure.

As per the plan, the complex will have six floors with 770 pillars and will be built on the Chalukyan style of architecture. It will also have an auditorium with a seating capacity of 770 as it is believed that there were 770 Sharanas (Basavanna's followers) in the Anubhava Mantapa. Sources from Basavakalyan Development Board said that administrative approval for the revised estimate of Rs 612 crore was given in June and work order to Pune-based company was given only in August. "Work on the foundation of the complex started just a few weeks ago," said sources. "If it is not done or initiated even after hanging fire for so long, it might boomerang on the party which is largely depending on the Lingayat vote-base. If the project had started on time, half the work would have been completed by now," officials said.

In 2021, just a few weeks before the bypolls in Basavakalyana, the then CM Yediyurappa laid the foundation where he had announced that the work would be completed in two years. However, the work has not even started as the Detailed Project Report (DPR) for the project was not prepared and without the DPR, tenders for the actual work cannot be floated. This year, during April, CM Bommai had said that the work will begin in May 2022, which didn't happen. In fact in May, Bommai had chaired the Basavakalyan Development Board meeting where he set a deadline of three years for the completion of the work.

HC upholds ban on PFI, affiliates

ENS @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court upheld the notification issued by the Ministry of Home Affairs, giving immediate effect to the ban on the Popular Front of India and its affiliates or front, declaring them 'unlawful associations' for five years, for allegedly having international links with terrorist groups like the ISIS.

The notification dated September 27 has two parts — the first declaring the PFI ban 'unlawful', and the second bringing it into effect immediately. As the first part was referred to the Tribunal constituted in terms of Section 4 of the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act for adjudication, the petitioner Nasir Pasha, a member of PFI, had questioned the second part of the notification which gives immediate effect to the ban, on the ground that separate reasons are not recorded, in terms of Section 3(3) of the Act. Justice M Nagaprasanna dismissed the petition filed by Pasha, represented by his wife Arshiya Fathima, as he is in judicial custody. Justice Nagaprasanna observed that the impugned notification would indicate that reasons are present in the notification itself. Article 19(1)(c) (fundamental right to form associations or unions) on which much emphasis is laid, can have reasonable restrictions imposed under certain circumstances under Article 19(4) in the interest of the sovereignty and integrity of India, or public order, or morality. "I do not find any warrant that would entail interference at the hands of this court. Any further consideration of the submissions made by the senior counsel for the petitioner would prejudice proceedings before the Tribunal," the judge said, referring to the Delhi HC verdict on the ban on Islamic Research Foundation with immediate effect, based on SC verdict.

FANS' WISH

SIDDU CUTS 75-KG CAKE THAT SAYS HE IS NEXT CM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mysuru

A day after Shivanandapuri Swami of Kanakapeeta and several former ministers batted for Congress leader Siddaramaiah as the next chief minister, it echoed again on Wednesday with scores of his supporters making the Badami MLA cut a cake weighing 75 kg with the words 'Next CM Siddaramaiah' written on it.

Siddaramaiah took part in a function held to celebrate Kanaka Jayanti and installation of office-bearers of Kurubara Sangha here on Wednesday. Throughout the event, Siddaramaiah was called as the 'next CM' and was even handed over a sword on the occasion.

Speaking on the occasion, Siddaramaiah came down heavily on the BJP and the Sangh Parivar saying "they promoted caste system and inequality in society". He urged all backward communities to unite to fight what he called social injustice.

"As Kanakadasa belonged to a backward community, he was not taught by sage Vyasa. Through his knowledge, Kanakadasa penned Nalacharitre, Mohatarangini and through Keerthanas, he sensittised people about inequality," he said.

Siddaramaiah reiterated that due to the Constitution drafted by Dr B R Ambedkar, he was able to become the CM. "It is high time we safeguard the Constitution and democratic values of the country," he said, alleging that the RSS did not contribute anything to the independence movement. "RSS is trying to divide the society and the country through its propaganda," he said.

On the occasion, writer Aravinda Malagatti said there is a need to safeguard the Constitution and opined that Siddaramaiah has all chances to be the next CM and once he assumes the chair, he should work to give new life to the 'Saint literature' (Santa Sahitya) by constituting a committee.

THE INVISIBLE HURDLE

SC/STs large in number, but don't fight from general seats

BANSY KALAPPA
@ Bengaluru

SCORES of small and microscopic communities don't have a single elected member in the Assembly or Lok Sabha. That is because their numbers are minuscule. But SC/STs, who have nearly 1.5 crore voters across the state, hesitate to contest from unreserved constituencies and pick seats that are reserved for them — 35 for SCs and 15 for STs — as they fear venturing out of their comfort zones.

But there are exceptions. Congress General Secretary BP Maurya (late) dared to contest from a general seat and won, while K Chandrashekar, an SC, successfully contested from Basavanagudi. Late KH Ranganath, an SC, won from Chitradurga, Ramesh Jarkiholi, an ST, romped home from Gokak and KN Rajanna, an ST, represented a non-reserved seat.

Trying to explain the phenomenon, senior Bharatiya Janata Party leader B Somashekar, who was a minister and won four times from a reserved constituency, said, "While it is true that many lack the courage to contest from unreserved constituencies, it is also a fact that parties do not give them tickets as they lack the money or muscle power to win elections. The reason is also that Dalits have 101 sub-sects and they are not united. Some parties prefer 'touchable' SCs like Bhovis and Lambanis, rather than untouchables. These touchables are socially with the upper castes."

Former deputy chief minister and Congress senior leader G Parameshwar, who has been winning from the reserved Koratgere constituency for long, said, "People's mindset should change. They need to become more progressive. I had almost decided to contest from the Tumkur Parliament seat in 2008 and 2018, but could not due to many reasons."

Experts pointed out that each constituency has at least 10,000 SC/STs, while in over 50 seats, the numbers are around 40,000 to 50,000.

"Even then, they hesitate to contest from general seats. That could be because they are paralysed by the fear of losing. At the same time, leaders, whose communities constitute just 0.1 to 0.2 per cent of the population, have been contesting and winning elections," they added.

Karnataka will go to polls early next year.

HC allows Datta Jayanti celebrations

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Wednesday allowed Datta Jayanti celebrations at Bababudangiri of Chikkamagaluru district for three days from December 6 and perform rituals by the committee constituted by the State Government.

A division bench of Justice Alok Aradhe and Justice S Vishwajith Shetty gave nod for the celebrations after hearing the arguments of the advocate general and the appellant Syed Ghouse Mohiuddin Shah Qadri. Further hearing has been adjourned to January 12, 2023.

Dalits, Muslims at heart of HDK's '23 vote hunt

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@ Bengaluru

JDS leader HD Kumaraswamy, who has embarked on the Pancharatna Yatra to better party's chances in the 2023 Assembly polls, is trying to woo Muslims and Dalits by planning to camp in their localities and dine with them in the Old Mysuru region, where the party has a strong base.

Having CM Ibrahim as state party president will only help him attract Muslim voters. "Why cannot Ibrahim become a chief minister? Is he untouchable," he had asked, triggering a controversy. But he later clarified, saying his intention was not to hurt the feelings of Dalits and to pacify the Dalit community, he will now stay at Dalit-dominant Dibburu area of Tumakuru on Thursday. "He will have breakfast at the house of JDS SC wing city president DN Bhyresh," said JDS leader Nagaraj. On Wednesday, he visited the Muslim-dominated Lakkuru at Thyamagondlu in the Nelamangala constituency in Bengaluru Rural.

"Vokkaligas stand by JDS as they have a sense of belonging and hold party patriarch HD Deve Gowda in high esteem. Kumaraswamy is now on a mission to keep the Muslim and Dalit voters with the party. JDS won seven seats, including Nelamangala and Malavalli that are reserved for SCs, in 2018," said a JDS leader.

As Mallikarjun Kharge, a Dalit stalwart, has been elevated as AICC president, JDS has a task at hand to ensure that its traditional Dalit voters stay with the party, he said. "Kharge cannot personally meet the Dalit community, while Kumaraswamy can interact with them which will have a better impact," he added.

MLA distributes pans, cookers to voters

Tumakuru: Congress MLA Dr Ranganath and his team faced an embarrassment in Kunigal after JDS workers on Tuesday night protested against the legislator giving away goodies to voters. When Ranganath and party workers arrived at KRS Agrahara and distributed a frying pan and pressure cookers to the pe ople, JDS members opposed it. They said the MLA has failed to take steps to fill potholes, but is luring voters. The video went viral on social media. Soon after facing resistance the distribution was stopped, said SD Chikkanna, a Congress leader and former taluk panchayat president. "We had distributed prizes to the winners of a rangoli competition held in the town before the freedom walk in August. We now wanted to give out the cooker and pan as a consolation prize to the others", he maintained. ENS

Where ruins come alive: Two-day Hampi Utsav to be held in mid-Jan

KIRAN BALANNANAVAR @ Hosapete

The Vijayanagara district administration has finally decided on the dates to hold the two-day Hampi Utsav. Initially planned to be inaugurated on January 6, 2023, the same day as the Kannada Sahitya Sammelana in Haveri, the 2-day Hampi Utsav will now be held sometime in mid-January. The final dates are expected to be announced in a day or two.

On Tuesday, Vijayanagara Deputy Commissioner Venkatesh T and Superintendent of Police Srihari Babu BL inspected the areas where Hampi Utsav is organised each year. They inspected the water sports area, main stage and other venues which will host cultural programmes.

Hampi Utsav is among the top events conducted by the State Government. The event was first started by former deputy chief minister MP Prakash in the 1980s and it has been conducted since then. Due to the Covid-19 pandemic, the festival was organised symbolically on the banks of the Tungabhadra river in Hampi. But this time, the administration and minister and the local MLA Anand Singh are keen on making the two-day festival a grand event.

"We have discussed it with District Minister Shashikala Jolle. A meeting will be held in this regard on December 5 where the dates will be finalised," DC Venkatesh said.

"There has been a demand to increase the utsav to three days. A meeting of all the stakeholders will be chaired by the minister. Our main aim is to make the festival a grand success. We will start preparations for the event from the third week of December," he said.

Besides the usual programmes such as Tunga arati, cultural evenings, 'Hampi By Sky' helicopter rides, light and sound show and rural sports, the administration is planning to conduct water sports in the Tungabhadra river. During the earlier editions, water sports were held in Kamalapur lake.

Maternal mortality rate dips in K'taka

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

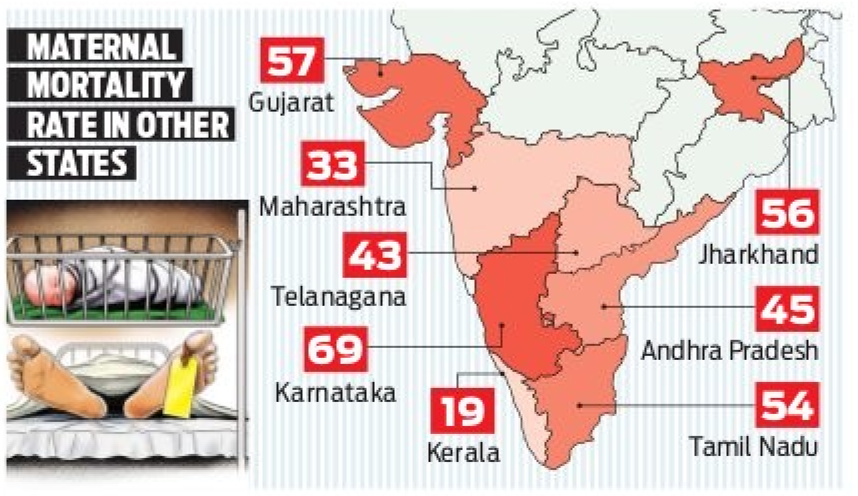
THE maternal mortality rate in Karnataka has improved compared to previous years, according to a special bulletin — Maternal Mortality in India 2018-20 — released on Wednesday.

The report by the office of the Registrar General stated that the maternal mortality rate (MMR) in the state is 69 per lakh live births in 2018-20, down from 83 in 2017-19.

Karnataka Health Department officials said there has been a 14 per cent reduction. However, compared to the MMR in other states like Kerala (19), Gujarat (57), Telanagana (43), Tamil Nadu (54), Andhra Pradesh (45), Maharashtra (33) and Jharkhand (56), Karnataka needs to do better. The overall MMR in India, as per the report, is 97 per lakh births.



In 2011-13, the state's MMR was 113, in 2014-16 (108), in 2015-17 (97) and in 2016- 18 (92).

A Karnataka health official said a lot of attention now needs to be paid to Dharwad, Yadgir, Kalaburagi, Bidar and Raichur where maternal mortality rate is high. MMR above the average of 69 was reported in Dharwad, Chikkaballapur, Ramanagara, Kodagu, Bengaluru Rural and Urban, Yadgir, Davangere, Udupi, Kalaburagi, Bidar, Shivamogga and Raichur.

"Now, the department is preparing a district-wise action plan to bring the rate down. The prime need at the moment is to increase the number of specialists, nurses and staff in district hospitals. It has also been noted that MMR has reduced because the number of births at home have come down. Due to the strengthening of Asha and Anganwadi workers, cases of child deaths have come down. Accountability among medical staffers has been made more aggressive and has improved. Apart from increased awareness, the increased number of schemes for children, especially for the girl child, has help reduce the number of deaths," the official said.

Officials admitted that while community health centres can further be improved with more staff and emergency facilities, the services so far have helped in making them more approachable to people for medical attention and deliveries. The help in controlling the rise of infections has also helped reduce MMR to a large extent.

A bus driver's presence of mind helped in diverting a huge road mishap and saved the lives of about 50 students of Sankeshwar, at Mahabaleshwar in Maharashtra on Wednesday. However, the students incurred injuries in the incident.

According to sources, the students of Sankeshwar of Belagavi district were travelling to Mahabaleshwar for a school picnic, when the brakes of the vehicle failed. The vehicle was moving on a ghat road with a steep fall on one side and hilly rocks on the other. When the brakes failed, the driver was forced to allow the vehicle hit the hilly section in order to control the vehicle.

Other vehicles moving in the valley immediately stopped and rushed to help the injured students. The local police also rushed to the spot and helped in providing medical aid to the injured. All the students escaped with minor injuries.

IISc STUDENT WINS PRIZE AT BERLIN SUMMIT FOR TB DIAGNOSTICS TOOL

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

AN IISc student won third prize at an international summit held in Berlin, Germany, for a device that could make tuberculosis (TB) diagnosis cheaper and more accessible.

Ayushi Chauhan, a PhD scholar at IISc's chemical engineering department, was awarded third prize under the 'Breakthrough of the Year Emerging Talents' category at the Falling Walls Lab and Science Summit 2022 in Germany. She was earlier the winner of Falling Walls Lab India 2022, leading her to represent the country during the global summit.

Ayushi Chauhan

She and her adviser, Dr Bhushan Toley, developed a pocket-sized device for the detection of both regular and drug-resistant tuberculosis, that makes the diagnostic portion near equipment-free. "The device reduces instrumentation cost by 99.6% and testing cost by 87%, which can be reduced even further. Only around one-third of tuberculosis cases are actually reported. This is due in large part to equipment needs," she said, during her pitch at the summit. She said the diagnosis method was visually similar to that of a home pregnancy test and Covid tests. "I believe this invention can bring an end to tuberculosis by 2035," she said.

Official highlights flaws in draft Bill against Kerala guv

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@T'Puram

A SENIOR government official has pointed technical flaws in the draft bill that aims to remove the governor as chancellor of universities in the state. The cabinet approved the draft bill on Wednesday.

While examining the specific bill to remove the governor as the chancellor of Kerala Agricultural University, one of the important arguments raised by agriculture secretary B Ashok was that the preamble of the draft did not mention the circumstances for bringing in the legislation. In a detailed note on the file of the bill, he opined that necessary rectifications be made in it.

Ashok's note critical of the bill did not go down well with ministers. At the cabinet meeting, some of them said the secretary exceeded his brief. The meeting decided to formally convey the government's displeasure to the officer.

The draft bill will be tabled in the assembly session beginning December 5. It proposes replacing the governor with subject experts as chancellor. For this, amendments will have to be made in the Acts of 14 universities- — Kerala University, Mahatma Gandhi University, Cochin University of Science and Technology, Calicut University, Kannur University, Sree Sankaracharya University of Sanskrit, Thunchath Ezhuthachan Malayalam University, Digital University Kerala, Sree Narayanaguru Open University, Kerala Agricultural University, Kerala Veterinary and Animal Sciences University, Kerala University of Fisheries and Ocean Studies, Kerala University of Health Science and APJ Abdul Kalam Technological University.

The draft bill provides for chancellor's removal in case of grave allegations against him. In such cases, the action will be based on an investigation conducted by a former judge of the Supreme Court or High Court.

On November 9, the cabinet had cleared an ordinance removing the governor as chancellor. It was sent to Governor Arif Mohammed Khan, but he returned it, terming it "irrelevant" after the government announced convening of the assembly session.

Raju the dog goes on a 'pilgrimage' to Sabarimala

SUBHASH CHANDRA NS
@Karwar

THE shrine of Lord Ayyappa at Sabarimala in Kerala is known for pilgrims from various states thronging it every year. However, this year, there is a special addition - a stray dog is walking all the way to the holy place. It has already covered a distance of over 260 kms from Dharwad to Kundapur in Udupi district along with three devotees.

Raju (named by pilgrims), a stray dog met Naganagouda Patil and Manjunath Kumbar from Manganagatti and Ravi Marihal from Nardendra village as they were on their way to Sabarimala with Irumudi (offerings to Lord Ayyappa) on their heads. They shared some of their food with him. He is now a part of their team and has faithfully covered over 260 kms as of today. Raju has now reached Udupi district. "We decided to walk to Sabarimala on foot and we rested for a while near our village, when this stray dog joined us, following us all the way till here. We tried our best to leave him behind so that our journey is without hassles, but he kept on following us," Naganagouda Patil- the senior most among the travellers told Express.

The travellers even tried to lock Raju inside a gate but he managed to escape and follow them. "We think that it is God's wish that Raju should accompany us. We have given up our attempts to drive him away," said Manjunath Kannur, another traveller.

On its behaviour en route their travel, the trio said that surprisingly, Raju behaves in a most disciplined manner. " Usually, we dump our belongings in a place and sleep nearby. Since Raju is a part of our team, we keep food and even biscuits meant for him for the journey. He knows about our things here and guards them. He never touches anything until we share it with him," they said.

"Even when people offered him meat, he did not eat it. When we travelled in Uttara Kannada, we came across many places where fish was being dried. But Raju was not attracted to it," said Naganagouda.

When questioned if Raju will be allowed to enter the temple, Naganagouda said that he will not be allowed to climb the sacred staircase, "but he can be taken to the temple. We will ensure he visits the temple and returns safely," he said.

Naganagouda, who has been visiting Sabarimala for the last 18 years said that he even travelled by foot during his fifth-year visit. A video of the 'Canine walking its way to Sabarimala' has gone viral on the social media as the pilgrims accompanying Raju have been narrating his story and people are sharing it.

Thousands mourn Pondy temple elephant

BAGALAVAN PERIER B @Puducherry

A pall of gloom descended on Puducherry as Lakshmi, a 32-year-old elephant of the popular Manakula Vinayagar Temple, collapsed and died during a routine morning walk in the city on Wednesday. Thousands, including politicians and Lieutenant Governor Tamilisai Soundararajan, paid a tearful homage to the 'gentle giant' that was laid to rest after an autopsy later in the day.

While the elephant is suspected to have died of a heart attack, no official statement was issued by the government, temple management or the forest department till late in the evening.

According to sources, the elephant, which used to stay in a shed at Vedapurewswarar Temple on Mahatma Gandhi Road, didn't come to Manakula Vinayagar Temple for the past few weeks as it was undergoing treatment for diabetes and sore feet. On Wednesday morning, caretaker Sakthivel took her for a regular walk on Kamatchiamman Temple Street when Lakshmi suddenly collapsed and fell on the road. Sakthivel immediately alerted the veterinary doctors who were treating her. The veterinarians who arrived at the spot declared her dead.

Meanwhile, as information about Lakshmi's death went viral on social media, more than a few hundred people gathered at the spot. Police personnel who rushed to the spot transferred Lakshmi to a trailer truck with the help of a crane and took the body to the Manakula Vinayagar Temple.

The sanctum sanctorum of the temple was shut for the today and Lakshmi's body was kept outside the temple for people to pay homage.

Puducherry Lieutenant Governor Tamilisai Soundararajan, who paid her respects, told reporters, "I convey my condolence to all including those who were close to Lakshmi. The elephant blesses everyone who came to the temple. I don't know how to console those who are devastated by the loss."

BRUTALITY NOT THE SOLUTION TO STUDENT INDISCIPLINE

News of teachers taking to severe forms of corporal punishment, at times bordering on brutality, comes to light with shocking regularity. Teachers claim it is done to discipline children, but some adopt sadistic measures beyond the pale. Like the teacher in Uttar Pradesh who used a drilling machine on the hand of a young boy who could not recite a mathematical table; luckily, the boy's friend pulled the machine's plug before the injury turned severe. Children have lost hearing, vision and even their lives after being thrashed mercilessly by teachers, and one boy collapsed after running continuously on the school field in the afternoon sun.

Strangely, such tragedies continue to occur in these times of new awareness about the effects of such excesses and strict rules governing the behaviour of teachers. Section 17 of the Right to Education Act, 2009 imposes an absolute bar on corporal punishment, which could be classified as physical punishment, mental harassment and discrimination. The Act prescribes disciplinary action and even imprisonment against the guilty person. Assault, abuse and neglect, which cause suffering to the child, is also dealt with by the Juvenile Justice Act, 2000, and applies to anyone in a position of authority, including parents and guardians. In fact, the National Commission for Protection of Child Rights mandates that every school must develop a mechanism to ensure children's safety and also regulate teachers' behaviour.

While this is a new and disturbing trend, there is a different school of thought at the other end of the parenting spectrum, which believes in sparing the rod and spoiling the child completely. This section is parent-driven, upholds the child's rights as supreme, and is critical of even the sting of a cane or a sharp rebuke. Faced with this new wokeism among parents, most teachers are in a dilemma over discipline. They have all but given up their traditional 'weapons' to keep children in order, especially with an increase in the number of youngsters resorting to suicide after the slightest rebuke, criticism or disapproval. Somewhere, in this new age where both the family structure and school ecosystem are undergoing a change, both teachers and parents seem to have lost that fine art of disciplining the young—with measured doses of authoritarianism, love, fear and forgiveness, and an eye on the welfare of the child. We sorely need a reworked guru-shishya parampara.

PROTESTS ASIDE, SAVING VIZHINJAM PORT A MUST

It was touted as a 'dream project' that could take Kerala's economy to another level. But seven years after the then UDF government signed an agreement with Adani Ports Limited to construct an international deep water multipurpose seaport at Vizhinjam, the ₹7500-crore project seems to be stuck. The Latin church, the dominant religious group in the coastal belt, is up in arms against it as they feel the construction has affected the coastal ecosystem, thereby affecting their lives and livelihood. The church demands that the project be stopped immediately. The issue has taken a deeper communal colour, with the Hindu Aikyavedi supporting a section of fishermen favouring the project. Certain communal remarks by the priests against a Muslim state minister also opened many wounds. The agitation turned violent on Sunday, with protestors attacking a police station and injuring many, including policemen, while demanding the release of those who were arrested earlier in the day.

Significant amid the imbroglio is the government handling the protesters and the situation with unusual mildness. Despite the High Court's instructions to provide adequate security for port construction, the government has yet to effectively clamp down on the protests. This is in contrast to how the same government took strong action to bring the GAIL pipeline and NH construction projects, stuck for years, back on track. But in the case of Vizhinjam port, the government seems to have gone unusually soft. Whether it is due to the fear of antagonising the Latin church, which holds a monopoly of votes in the coastal belt, or whether there are other extraneous reasons, is yet to be clear.

Whatever the reasons, the government should not allow the Vizhinjam port, which has immense economic possibilities, to sink into the muddy waters of politics and religion. The Congress, which brought the project to the Kerala shores, must not try to fish in muddled waters by opposing its own project for electoral benefits. There is no doubt that the fishermen's concerns are genuine and must be addressed. But whether their issues are due to the port construction or are connected to larger climate change issues needs to be verified. The government must also take measures to speed up the rehabilitation of the affected fisherfolk. No matter how beneficial it is, any project will stand on its feet only if it has the support of the local community.

QUICK TAKE

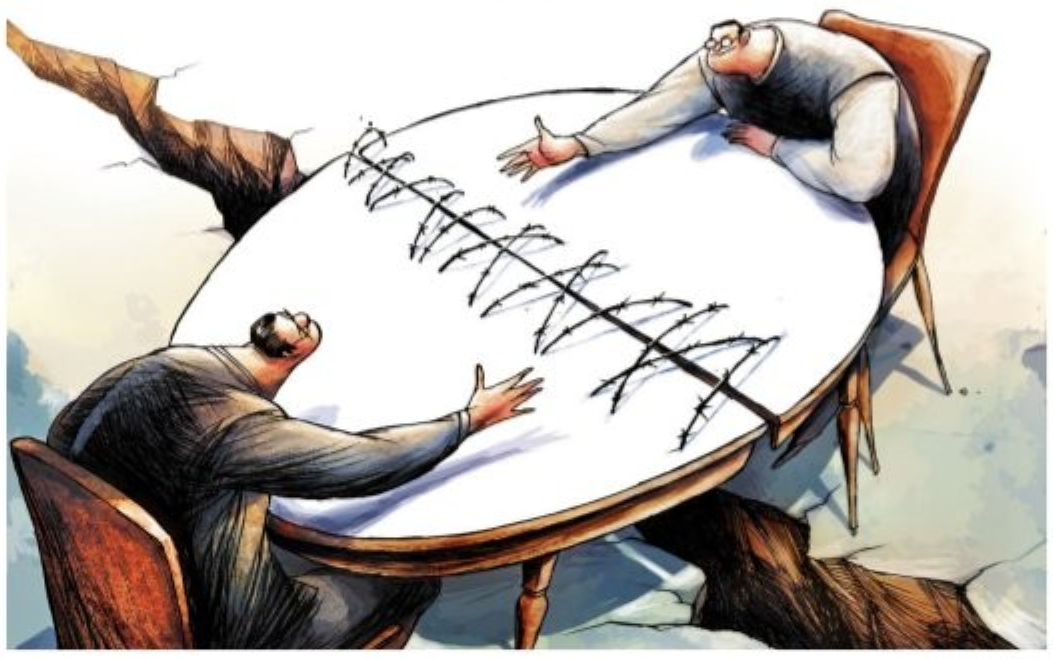
MENSTRUAL HYGIENE PRIORITY

The Supreme Court recently issued notice to the Centre and states on a petition seeking free sanitary napkins for girls in schools. Why should the governments wait for a court notice? The National Health Mission runs a menstrual hygiene scheme for supplying napkins in schools for a token amount. The sad truth is many girls cannot afford them. Most schools don't have separate washroom facilities either. School closures during the lockdown put paid to the exercise anyway. There's no idea if the supply has resumed since. The problem is severe as girls' dropout rate is directly linked to menstrual issues.

The seeds of the Assam-Meghalaya border disputes were sown in 1972 when Meghalaya was granted statehood without finalising the boundaries

WHEN BOUNDARIES DO NOT REFLECT SOCIAL REALITIES

PATRICIA MUKHIM
Editor, Shillong Times



SOUMYADIP SINHA

It's ironic that in July last year, the Mizoram-Assam border clash saw five Assam policemen slain at the hands of the Mizoram Police. In the wee hours of November 22, a border clash erupted allegedly because Assam forest guards and Assam Police chased a timber-carrying truck into Mukroh, which is well inside Meghalaya and about 9 km from the border outpost in Assam. Timber cutting from inside forests that stretch from one state to the other is a regular phenomenon. Forest guards often facilitate timber smuggling but in this particular case, the Forest guards of Assam decided to give the timber-carrying truck a chase and shot at its tyres. On hearing the gunshots, the villagers of Mukroh, who grow rice wherever they can clear forests, without any idea which side of the boundary they are on, and who usually live in makeshift huts in the farms during harvesting and planting season, came out with their sticks and machetes which they usually carry to their fields. The Assam forest guards and Assam Police, too, chased the truck right into Mukroh. The Assam Police claim they were gheraoed by villagers who demanded they release the driver and two handypersons they had arrested. A scuffle ensued, and Assam Police shot one Assam forest guard and five villagers from Mukroh.

Meghalaya was busy with the Cherry Blossom Festival and a Literature Festival which drew participants from across the country on its second day when it was unceremoniously called off. As is the norm in Meghalaya, anything happening anywhere in the state has repercussions in Shillong. Tourists packed their bags and left. Those who had planned to arrive here for the host of autumn festivals cancelled their bookings. The pressure groups who looked for every opportunity to put the government on the mat began their agitations. Shillong had just recovered from a bout of violence on the streets when passers-by (non-tribals) were beaten up by a group protesting the lack of employment opportunities in Meghalaya. That was October 28. Then Mukroh happened. The internet was shut down.

Taxis from Meghalaya are not allowed to go beyond Jorabat, the Assam-Meghalaya border. Passengers bound for the railway station and airport in Guwahati have to take an Assam-registered taxi from that point. And why? Because so-called miscreants burnt an Assam-registered vehicle parked in a Shillong locality. Whenever there is tension in Shillong, the non-tribal residents, no matter how long they have settled in Meghalaya, feel vulnerable, for they don't know when and where they will be attacked. The 'othering', encouraged largely by politicians who have run out of issues to fool the electorate, has unfortunately become the modus operandi for fighting elections. And Meghalaya is going to the polls in February 2023.

Mukroh is 127 km from Shillong, a five-hour journey on non-existent roads. Although tribal communities have been believed to be egalitarian, in the last 20 years or so, there have been huge income disparities. A small tribal elite owns most of the land, including those formerly designated as community land. Even community forests are being depleted by the tribal elite. So, while Meghalaya is buffeted by a lot of internal woes, it also has to deal with what is seen as a recalcitrant Assam Police Force guarding the borders.

The problem with demarcating political boundaries is that they don't lend themselves to social realities. When Meghalaya was carved out of Assam in 1972, the understanding was that all those areas under United Khasi and Jaintia Hills and Garo Hills District would go to Meghalaya. At least that was what The North-Eastern Areas (Reorganisation) Act, 1971 stated. Before that, the Khasis, Jaintias and Karbis were all people of the larger state of Assam and occupied contiguous territories. Boundaries between states of the same countries are soft borders and not hard borders such as those drawn by the British geographer Cyril Radcliffe when East Pakistan was created, and hard boundary lines cut through people's kitchens and bedrooms.

The seeds of the Assam-Meghalaya border disputes were sown in 1972 when Meghalaya was granted statehood without finalising the boundaries. Both states thought they would abide by The North-Eastern Areas (Reorganisation) Act, 1971 until they realised that the Act did not consider the changed social contours on the ground. At one time, the Khasi-Jaintia tribes of Meghalaya had invited the Karbi people to be part of the statehood movement and to be included in Meghalaya. For some reason, the Karbis backed out and chose to remain with Assam. The two states have had a long-standing dispute in 12 stretches of their 884-km shared border.

In 2011, the Meghalaya government had identified 12 areas of difference with Assam, spread over approximately 2,700 sq km. Some of these disputes stem from recommendations made by a 1951 committee headed by then Assam Chief Minister Gopinath Bordoloi. Interestingly, Assam has meticulously settled people of Nepalese origin in many of these disputed areas. In Pilangkata, several Naga families of Manipur, amongst others, are well-settled. Meghalaya has all but lost Pilangkata.

But the flashpoint between the two states is the district of Langpih in West Garo Hills bordering the Kamrup district of Assam. Langpih was part of the Kamrup district during the British colonial period but post-Independence, it became part of the Garo Hills and Meghalaya.

However, Assam considers it part of the Mikir Hills in Assam. In Meghalaya, the Khasis claim that Langpih should be with West Khasi Hills since its name is Khasi and the bulk of settlers there are Khasis. Meanwhile, Assam has changed the name of Langpih to Lumpi.

Since 1983, six rounds of talks have occurred, with five at the level of the chief secretaries and the latest one in March 2022 between the chief ministers of Assam and Meghalaya. The next and final round of talks was to be held November-end. Alas! Before the rapprochement could arrive, things soured at the border between West Jaintia Hills District of Meghalaya and West Karbi Anglong District of Assam. Therefore, one wonders how future rounds of talks will happen and who will be the arbiter between the two CMs at this sensitive juncture.

THE RANSOMWARE THREAT IS REAL

DR NISHTHA KAUSHIKI
Associate Professor, Central University of Punjab, Bathinda

As the world has largely shifted from mechanised warfare to hybrid warfare, the choice of mass disruptions via cyberattacks remains the predominant tool, closely followed by the malicious use of AI, in which social media is a highly preferred choice to disorient the valuable human resource of a country. The results are apparent—enduring conflicts instead of a 'final victory'. The lines of distinction between governmental and industrial secrets have been blurred, and political propaganda to influence the domestic population has been rising. The warfare thus continuously evolves, thereby posing a challenge to the security agencies. The cyber domain remains the most critical field, exposed to multiple threats such as espionage, hacking and even ransomware.

China being a source of most of the cyberattacks in the world isn't a secret. Beijing's intent in using technology as a tool against its opponents dates back to 1975 when Ye Jianying, one of the founders of the People's Liberation Army (PLA), presented its report titled Strengthening Electronic Countermeasure Work to the Communist Party. Later, as the technological advancements in China began to surface, so did its motivations to conduct espionage via the internet for intellectual property theft.

PLA has regularly conducted surveys and competitions since 2003 to identify talent concerning cyberattacks. The Microsoft 2022 Digital Defense Report has stated that China is "likely using cyberespionage as a component of its global economic and military influence" via its "state-affiliated threat groups". The larger aim is to "steal critical data and information". The number of attacks from China has increased manifold since 2021. The report directly linked the geopolitical scenario in the Indo-Pacific with China's aggressiveness and assessed: "China will continue to utilise cyber collection as a tool to help advance its strategic political, military, and economic goals due to observed cyber operations and the breadth of entities targeted."

India, too, has not been spared. A section of the media reported in 2019 that the case of 'Robinhood Ransomware' that hit the electricity departments of Telangana and Andhra Pradesh demanded ₹20 lakh (or six bitcoins) to restore the power supply. Approximately 3.5 lakh consumers were affected. Other examples include 'WannaCry' affecting banking facilities in Tamil Nadu and Gujarat (2017), the BSNL malware attacks (2017) and Uttar Haryana Bijli Vitran Nigam (UHBVN) ransomware (2018).

American cybersecurity firm Palo Alto Networks, in its 2022 report, noted that malware and ransomware attacks on Indian interests, such as firms and government establishments, saw a 218% increase in 2021. Nevertheless, if such big companies have faced ransomware, the condition of small and medium enterprises, with an employee count of 200–500 people, having low levels of cyber hygiene, are more prone to ransomware. In such cases, cyber insurance should be popularised at least to ensure some backup against financial losses.

PIXABAY

The aim of India's cyber-technical cooperation should be to adopt a two-pronged approach, defensive and offensive methodologies, to counter the threat

The world is getting extremely cautious about cyber threats from various sources, particularly China. In 2021, a training programme was developed by the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime (UNODC) that focused on strengthening the abilities of the member countries to effectively investigate and prosecute ransomware and other financially motivated cybercrimes, including cryptocurrency-enabled crime. Interestingly, the most crucial part of the UNODC training programme was that the Japanese government funded the training. In that light, Indo-Japanese cyber cooperation holds tremendous importance. The fourth Indo-Japan bilateral cyber dialogue was held a few months back and stressed on the rapidly changing landscape of cyberattacks and the new frontiers, such as 5G, which must be protected.

Most recently, cryptocurrencies have emerged as the most advanced technique of terror financing and mediums of payments for illegal drugs purchase and small arms supplies. According to a US-based research report published by RAND Corporation (2019), the new cryptocurrencies such as Omni Layer, BlackCoin, Monero, Hawk and Zcash have enhanced measures to increase the non-traceability and thus can be widely preferred by terror groups. Therefore, they pose a severe threat to internal security.

In such a transforming scenario, the objective of India's bilateral and multilateral cyber-technical cooperation should be to adopt a two-pronged approach consisting of defensive as well as offensive methodologies to counter the threat. Deterring ransomware attacks, apart from sharing software programs with partner countries, merely constitutes a defensive action. The larger objective should be to instil fear in the adversary's mind so that cyberattacks are indeed deterred. From a cyber-tactical perspective, joint offensive cooperation between Quad and AUKUS countries should be able to target the source by successfully disrupting the ransomware business model and punishing it in an unforeseen manner. Thus, a fine line of distinction between defensive and offensive, apart from a two-way approach, would be better suited for India.

The Quad's Foreign Ministers Meeting in September this year, apart from focusing on its core objective of the independence of the Indo-Pacific, also emphasised on its mission to implement the UN Framework for responsible State behaviour in cyberspace. In particular, it focused on the transnational threats of ransomware that could potentially disrupt the services of national security, finance, critical national infrastructure and private enterprises. Recently, the Counter Ransomware Initiative (CRI), a grouping of 36 countries, including India, decided to enhance its institutional collaboration to enhance "collective resilience" against ransomware while simultaneously pursuing actions against those guilty.

In the meeting, India announced its counter ransomware platform, 'Malwarekosh', with a stated objective "to support, analyse, share and collaborate on counter ransomware activities". Thus, the country is moving in the right direction concerning developing counter-offensive technologies. Further, the government should build on the concept of India's digital sovereignty. Additionally, security agencies need to train counter-offensive cyber experts to penetrate the cryptocurrency platforms to stop all illegal activities. Finally, a comprehensive approach towards cybersecurity needs to be adopted to ensure protection.

Complexity of reservation

Apropos of Decoding EWS and the malaise of one representing all (Nov 30). Even after 75 years of Independence, do we really need reservation? The column stated: "The entrenchment of the oligarchy will seriously damage India's development prospects." This applies to reservation too. India's prosperity lies in giving an equal chance to all.

Get rid of stereotypes

Apropos of Stop stereotyping, terrorism belongs to no religion (Nov 30). Stereotyping is a highly contagious disease. This wickedness has been greatly aided by political agendas and slanted media perspectives. The editorial's final message of hope is possible in the near future if we are committed to working for the change.

Inclusivity need of hour

Apropos of Stop stereotyping, terrorism belongs to no religion (Nov 30). We appreciate the views. It is true that there is a fringe element in every section of society and that we cannot blame the entire section for it. The editorial has rightly said acts of terror belong to no religion. We need to be inclusive.

A Messi situation

Lionel Messi has been needlessly dragged into a controversy, with Mexican boxer Canelo Alvarez claiming that the former had disrespected Mexico. Messi is seen kicking the Mexican jersey that he had exchanged after the match. He unintentionally did this while he was removing his shoes. It is clear that the Mexican boxer has made the charge out of frustration, unable to digest Mexico's loss.

Vizhinjam's cry for help

Apropos of Is Vizhinjam seaport going to dock? (Nov 30). The Kerala government seems to be in deep slumber without understanding the problem of the fishermen. It is paying no attention and concern to the poor people. On the other hand, people also need to understand the government and its functioning. There are many processes that involve negotiations to arrive at a conclusion.

Stop name-calling in politics

By referring to PM Narendra Modi as "Raavan", Congress President Mallikarjun Kharge has only caused damage to his party's prospects in the Gujarat assembly elections. The BJP, on the other hand, also cannot take a high moral ground in the matter as many of their leaders have, in the past, indulged in name-calling of the opposition parties and their leaders.

Maharashtra's economic isolation seems like a well planned move by khoke sarkar. In past 4 months, state has lost 5 projects due to political instability.

Today, India commences its G20 presidency

NARENDRA MODI
Prime Minister

THE previous 17 Presidencies of the G20 delivered significant results — ensuring macroeconomic stability, rationalising international taxation, and relieving debt burden on countries, among many other outcomes. We will benefit from these achievements and build further upon them.

However, as India assumes this important mantle, I ask myself — can the G20 go further still? Can we catalyse a fundamental mindset shift to benefit humanity as a whole?

I believe we can.

Our circumstances shape our mindsets. Throughout history, humanity lived in scarcity. We fought for limited resources because our survival depended on denying them to others. Confrontation and competition became the norm between ideas, ideologies and identities.

Unfortunately, we remain trapped in the same zero-sum mindset even today. We see it when countries fight over territory or resources. We see it when supplies of essential goods are weaponised. We see it when vaccines are hoarded by a few, even as billions remain vulnerable.

Some may argue that confrontation and greed are just human nature. I disagree. If humans were inherently selfish, what would explain the lasting appeal of so many spiritual traditions that advocate the fundamental oneness of us all?

One such tradition, popular in India, sees all living beings, and even inanimate things, as composed of the same five basic elements – the panch tatva of earth, water, fire, air and space. Harmony among these elements — within us and between us — is essential for our physical, social and environmental well-being.

India's G20 Presidency will work to promote this universal sense of oneness. Hence our theme — 'One Earth, One Family, One Future'.

This is not just a slogan. It takes into account recent changes in human circumstances, which we have collectively failed to appreciate.

Today, we have the means to produce enough to meet the basic needs of all people in the world.

Today, we do not need to fight for our survival — our era need not be one of war. Indeed, it must not be one!

Today, the greatest challenges we face — climate change, terrorism, and pandemics — can be solved not by fighting each other but only by acting together.

Fortunately, today's technology also gives us the means to address problems on a humanity-wide scale. The massive virtual worlds we inhabit today demonstrate the scalability of digital technologies.

India is a microcosm of the world, housing one-sixth of humanity and its immense diversity of languages, religions, customs and beliefs.

With the oldest-known traditions of collective decision-making, India contributes to the foundational DNA of democracy. As the mother of democracy, India's national consensus is forged not by diktat but by blending millions of free voices into one harmonious melody.

Today, India is the fastest-growing large economy. Our citizen-centric governance model takes care of even our most marginalised citizens while nurturing the creative genius of our talented youth.

We have tried to make national development not an exercise in top-down governance but a citizen-led 'people's movement'.

We have leveraged technology to create open, inclusive, and inter-operable digital public goods. These have delivered revolutionary progress in fields as varied as social protection, financial inclusion, and electronic payments.

For all these reasons, India's experiences can provide insights into possible global solutions.

During our G20 Presidency, we shall present India's experiences, learnings and models as possible templates for others, particularly the developing world.

Our G20 priorities will be shaped in consultation with not just our G20 partners but also our fellow travellers in the global South, whose voice often goes unheard.

Our priorities will focus on healing our 'One Earth', creating harmony within our 'One Family' and giving hope for our 'One Future'.

To heal our planet, we will encourage sustainable and environment-friendly lifestyles based on India's tradition of trusteeship towards nature.

To promote harmony within the human family, we will seek to depoliticise the global supply of food, fertilisers and medical products so that geo-political tensions do not lead to humanitarian crises. As in our own families, those whose needs are the greatest must always be our first concern.

To imbue hope in our future generations, we will encourage an honest conversation among the most powerful countries - on mitigating risks posed by weapons of mass destruction and enhancing global security.

India's G20 agenda will be inclusive, ambitious, action-oriented, and decisive.

Let us join together to make India's G20 Presidency a Presidency of healing, harmony and hope.

Let us work together to shape a new paradigm — of human-centric globalisation.

With the oldest-known traditions of collective decision-making, India contributes to the foundational DNA of democracy. As the mother of democracy, India's national consensus is forged not by diktat but by blending millions of free voices into one harmonious melody.

Ties with Russia in focus as India helms group of big powers

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

AS India takes over the G20 presidency – which will be marked by over 200 meetings across the country – one area of concern for some will be about how it tackles Russia.

"India's taking over G20 presidency is well received and we are sure that it will be a success. The only area of concern is how India will deal with Russia," German ambassador Dr Philipp Ackermann said.

India has made no bones about its equation with Russia as relations between the two countries have been cemented by enhanced trade ties even during the Ukraine conflict.

"India is well prepared for G20, beginning with the Sherpa meeting in Udaipur next week. I was in Havelock Islands, Andamans, last week for the curtain raiser. India is clearly a heavyweight in G20 presidency,'' Ackermann added.

India's G20 presidency will promote sense of oneness, with the theme, 'One Earth, One Family, One Future'.

"India's G20 agenda will be inclusive, ambitious, action-oriented, and decisive.Let us join together to make India's G20 presidency a presidency of healing, harmony and hope.Let us work together to shape a new paradigm — of human-centric globalisation,'' Prime Minister Narendra Modi had said while receiving the presidency in Bali last month.

The G20 comprises Argentina, Australia, Brazil, Canada, China, France, Germany, India, Indonesia, Italy, Japan, the Republic of Korea, Mexico, Russia, Saudi Arabia, South Africa, Turkey, the UK, the US and European Union. During its one-year presidency, India has several things planned. Many delegates from the member countries and guest countries will arrive in India for various programmes. Over 100 monuments across India will be illuminated by the G20 logo, which shows a blooming lotus. Over the next few months, there will be a 'University Connect' event which will bring together students of about 75 universities.

China warns US: 'Don't meddle in our India ties'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

CHINA had warned the United States not to interfere with its relationship with India while it continued to amass forces on its side of the Line of Actual Control (LAC), the Pentagon-headquartered US Department of Defence said in its 2022 China Military Power Report.

As per the CMPR, "Differing perceptions of border demarcations along the Line of Actual Control combined with recent infrastructure construction, led to multiple unarmed clashes, an ongoing standoff, and military buildups on both sides of the India-China border. In response to a skirmish in June 2020 between PRC and Indian patrols in Galwan Valley — the most violent clash between the two countries in 45 years — the Western Theater Command conducted a large-scale mobilization and deployment of PLA forces along the LAC."

As per the report, throughout the standoff, China officials sought to downplay the severity of the crisis, emphasizing upon Beijing's intent to preserve border stability and prevent the standoff from harming other areas of its bilateral relationship with India.

"The PRC seeks to prevent border tensions from causing India to partner more closely with the United States. PRC officials have warned US officials to not interfere with the PRC's relationship with India," the report says.

The People's Liberation Army's Western Theater Command is oriented toward India and counterterrorism missions along China's Central Asia borders. It is in charge of operations along the 3,488km LAC.

Mentioning the key takeaways under the China-India Border subheading, the Pentagon says that throughout 2021, the PLA sustained the deployment of forces and infrastructure build-up along the LAC.

"Negotiation made minimal progress as both sides resisted losing perceived advantages on the border. Beginning in May 2020, PRC and Indian forces faced off in clashes with rocks, batons, and clubs wrapped in barbed wire at multiple locations along the LAC. The standoff triggered the buildup of forces on both sides of the disputed border," it mentions.

China's stockpile of nuclear warheads doubled from around 200 in 2020 to 400 in 2022, says the Department of Defense. The report warns that the PLA plans "complete modernization" of its national defense and armed forces by 2035.

India, US armies simulate relief ops, China says won't build trust

MAYANK SINGH @ Auli, Joshimath

THE day China reacted to the India-US joint exercise Yudh Abhyas 2022, the exercise entered the important phase of putting military assistance towards the support of civilian population as part of the Humanitarian Aid and Disaster Relief situation. Chinese Foreign Ministry spokesperson Zhao Lijian on Wednesday said, "The India-US joint exercise near the Line of Actual Control in the border area is not helpful for building trust between China and India."

The Yudh Abhyas exercise, which began in mid-November, has seen exchange of new techniques and procedures. It is going on in the high altitude setting of the Himalayas in Auli at the height of 9,500ft. It will culminate on December 2.

The soldiers demonstrated their capabilities of carrying relief and rescue missions in situations like flashfloods.

"In this exercise, we will picture flashfloods in Dhauliganga river and that the axis from Malari to Joshimath has been washed away," Captain DS Bhati said. Capt Brady of the US said, "We are learning many new things. We have shared with each other different ways of doing things."

INDIA TALKS TO SOUTH AFRICA FOR MORE CHEETAHS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

WHILE India is celebrating the first kill of the two cheetahs brought from Namibia in September, who were released from quarantine earlier this week, negotiations are going on with South Africa for getting more such big cats in batches.

"Under the programme of bringing cheetahs to India, there is a need to add more numbers before they can be released in the natural habitat. Negotiations are going on with South Africa to get more cheetahs to India, to bring the total number to 50. It is a long process which takes time as cheetahs are considered the pride of nations they belong to and there is a lot of apprehension expressed by the countries in sending away these animals. Whether the cheetahs will adapt and survive is their biggest concern,'' said a person familiar with the process.

The Kuno National Park in Madhya Pradesh is home to leopards. The feline species are territorial and attack each other, and even though the cheetah is a swift animal it needs to be in reasonable numbers and acclimatised before being released into the wilderness. As of now, Kuno is proving to be a good habitat for them as it suits their climatic conditions.

"The two male cheetahs — Freddy and Elton — were released from quarantine on November 5 into an enclosure full of prey. The duo brought down a cheetal stag. This indicates that the cats are adapting to their new habitat. However, only after more cheetahs are added can we consider releasing them into the wild,'' sources said, adding that it will take some time before they fully settle down.

Meanwhile, the female cheetah that suffered a miscarriage was pregnant on arrival, but the long travel and complete change of habitat didn't keep her fit enough to deliver a baby.

Of the eight cheetahs brought from Namibia, five are female, aged between 2 and 5 years, while three are males between 4.5 and 5.5 years of age. The next batch of cheetahs too will be around the same age.

GYANVAPI CASE

HC to hear AIM plea challenging Varanasi court verdict on Dec 5

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

THE Allahabad High Court on Wednesday fixed December 5 as the date for further hearing on a civil revision petition filed by Anjuman Intezamia Masajid (AIM), the Gyanvapi mosque management committee, challenging the Varanasi district court order that had allowed the hearing in the suit filed by five Hindu women plaintiffs seeking right to worship Goddess Shringar Gauri and other deities on mosque premises.

The Varanasi court had ruled that the suit filed by Hindu plaintiffs was maintainable, and turned down the objections filed by AIM to its maintainability under Order 7 Rule 11 of Civil Procedure Code (CPC) on September 12, 2022.

The AIM had then filed a civil revision petition in Allahabad High Court. The hearing was resumed on Wednesday, and Justice JJ Munir posted the matter for December 5.

Meanwhile, during the hearing of a related petition, the Allahabad HC on Wednesday gave time to Archaeological Survey of India for filing its response on whether the carbon dating of the purported Shivling found on the mosque premises would damage it or safe evaluation of its age could be done. It fixed January 18, 2023, as the next date for hearing.

Cancer cases likely to go up by over 12% between '20 & '25, says ICMR

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

ONE in nine Indians is likely to have cancer in their lifetime as the disease may increase by 12.8% from 2020 to 2025, according to the ICMR.

All kinds of cancer cases are likely to rise by 27.7% from 2015 to 2025, as per the study published in ICMR's Indian Journal of Medical Research latest November issue.

In males, all cancers are likely to increase to 7,63,575 in 2025 from 6,01,737 in 2015, while in females, all cancers are likely to rise to 8,06,218 in 2025 from 6,27,202 in 2015.

The highest cases of cancers were reported in the age group of 40-64 years. Above 40 years, lung cancer was the top most common cancer among males, while breast cancer topped females in all age groups. Above 65 years, prostate (12.3%) was the second top cause of cancer after lung (13.1%) in males.

Among kids (0-14 years), lymphoid leukaemia (blood and bone marrow cancer) was leading among both boys and girls, ahead of nervous system.

The projected leading cancer cases of the lung and breast are 81,219 and 2,32,832 in males and females, respectively, for 2025.

"The cancer incidence is continuing to increase in India. The new estimates will help plan cancer prevention and control activities through the intervention of early detection, risk reduction and management," said the study. "In India, the incidence of cancer cases is likely to increase from 1.46 million in 2022 to 1.57 million in 2025," it added.

Vote split may hurt Cong in bastions

AAP, AIMIM have fielded candidates on Muslim seats that Congress considers safe in Guj

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

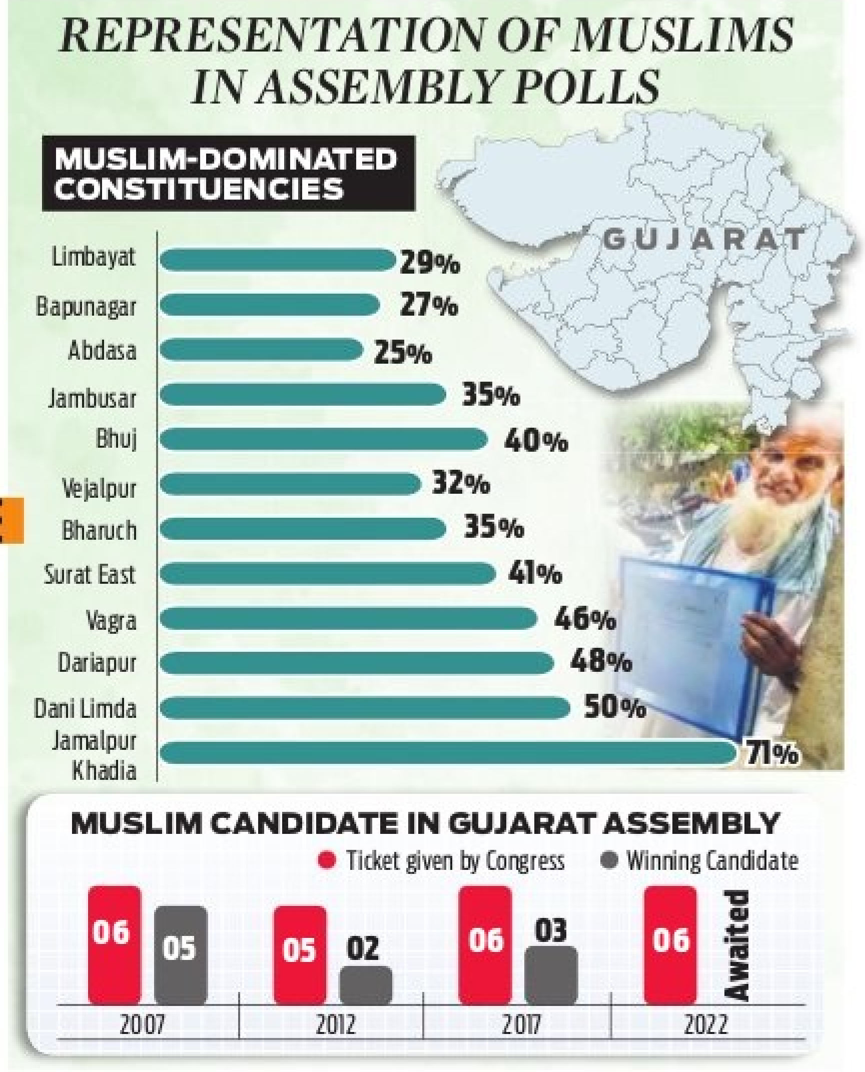
THE ruling BJP hasn't given the party nomination to any Muslim candidate for the elections to the 182-member Gujarat Assembly due on December 1 and 5. The Congress has given the ticket to six Muslims and expects to win most of them. However, AAP and the All India Majlis-e-Ittehadul Muslimeen (AIMIM) of Asaduddin Owaisi too have fielded their candidates in constituencies where Congress has Muslim candidates, clearly spoiling the prospects of Congress candidates.

The Muslim vote is crucial in at least a dozen assembly seats with the Congress hoping to win in half-a-dozen of them where it has fielded its candidates. These constituencies are: Dariapur of Ahmedabad city, Jamalpur-Khadia, Wankaner of Saurashtra, Abdasa of Kutch, Vagra seat of Bharuch district and Surat East seat. In all these seats, the Congress has preferred sitting or experienced party candidates.

In a multi-cornered contest, where at least three parties are vying for the Muslim vote, the BJP stands to benefit. For instance, Imran Khedawala representing the Chippa Community (Muslims) is a Congress candidate for Jamalpur-Khadia seat. The AIMIM has given the ticket to former Congressman and leader of the Chippa Community Sabir Kabliwala from this seat. AAP's Harun Nagori is also locked in the battle against BJP's Bhushanbhai Bhatt. The Congress has been able to get Chippa community votes as well as votes from other communities. However, this time AIMIM candidate will end up dividing the Chippa votes, resulting in the BJP candidate gaining most of seats.

Ditto for Dariapur seat: AIMIM has fielded Hasan Khan, while AAP has given the ticket to Taj Qureshi. They will be fighting against BJP's Kaushik Jain. The BJP can win if Muslim votes are divided. In 2017, the Congress' Gayasuddin Shaikh got 63,712 votes while BJP's Bharat Barot got 57,525 votes. The figures clearly indicate that Congress would lose the seat if 10,000 Muslim votes were deducted.

Similar is the season in Surat East where Surati, as well as Muslim votes are dominant. Congress' Aslam Cyclewala is pitted against AAP's Kanchan Jariwala, AIMIM's Vasim Qureshi and BJP's sitting MLA Arvind Rana.



Muslim vote bank

Muslim voters form 11% of Gujarat electors and are under represented. The Congress has given ticket to six Muslim candidates. Only once has the BJP given the ticket to a Muslim in its 27-year rule in the state. In 1998, BJP fielded a Muslim candidate from Vagra in Bharuch, who lost. Congress gave the ticket to 17 Muslim candidates, the highest ever, in 1980, out of which 12 were elected.

U'khand Assembly passes bill against religious conversion

NARENDRA SETHI@ Dehradun

The Uttarakhand Assembly on Wednesday passed by voice vote the Uttarakhand Freedom of Religion (Amendment) Bill 2022, empowering the government to enforce a strict law against religious conversion in the state.

On the second day of the supplementary budget session, the Assembly also cleared a bill implementing 30% horizontal reservation for women in the state. The Uttarakhand Public Service (Horizontal Reservation of Women) Bill 2022 will implement the new quota system. A few days ago the state government in a statement said it would strengthen the anti-conversion law, which provides for a 10-year jail term, by declaring forced conversion a cognizable offence. With the passage of the bills, a notification to implement them in the state will be issued soon.

In a statement, Chief Minister Pushkar Singh Dhami said the state "is devbhoomi (gods' land). Things like religious conversion can be fatal for us. So the government decided that strict laws should be made to ban religious conversion."

He said the government would implement the law with full determination.

The state government's move on a conversion law came two days after the Centre told the Supreme Court that religious freedom does not include a fundamental right to convert other persons. In an affidavit filed in response to a plea seeking actions over forced religious conversions, the Centre said it was 'cognizant of the menace' and laws that seek to control such practices are necessary to protect the cherished rights of vulnerable sections of society, including women and economically and socially backward classes.

About the women's reservation bill, the Chief Minister said, "The women of the state had a big role in the creation of Uttarakhand. The government had already decided that they should get the benefit of this horizontal reservation while respecting the mother power in the state."

KC asks for report on leaders' conduct

Congress general secretary KC Venugopal has managed to bring together CM Ashok Gehlot and former Deputy CM Sachin Pilot, till Rahul Gandhi's Bharat Jodo Yatra is in Rajasthan. Venugopal also asked PCC Chief Govind Singh Dotasara to prepare a report on leaders who have made offensive remarks since his warning in September and share it with him in two days. Since Gehlot and Pilot are among the leaders who have made sharp statements against each other, political circles are abuzz on whether Dotasara will prepare a report including Gehlot-Pilot's rhetorics and send it to the high command. Besides, several ministers will be under scrutiny.

BJP to hold Yatra before Rahul enters Raj

Rahul Gandhi's Bharat Jodo Yatra will enter Rajasthan on December 4 but in response, the BJP will hold Jan Aakrosh Yatra from December 1. The Rajasthan BJP will give a message of public anger and solidarity in all the 200 assembly seats to protest against the completion of four years of the Gehlot government. This yatra is seen as a big opportunity for BJP state chief Satish Poonia, who heads the camp opposing former chief minister Vasundhara Raje who along with her loyalists is missing from the Sardarshahar bye-election campaigning. The growing distance of Raje from the state BJP is fueling speculations of an intrnal rift.

3 U'khand BBA students attack & strip hosteller, flee; univ expels them

NARENDRA SETH @ Dehradun

Accused demanded ₹60k

The complainant alleged that the three accused stripped him and made videos, he alleged. The suspects also demanded ₹60,000 for deleting the video. The victim student refused to pay up which led to a fresh assault on him

THREE students of a management course run by a university in Uttarakhand allegedly forced a hostel inmate to drink alcohol and strip. They also reportedly filmed and blackmailed the student demanding Rs 60,000 to settle the 'case,' the police said on Wednesday, adding the suspects have fled. The college has expelled the three students, university authorities said. The case was reported from Stanza Living Hostel in Bidhauli area of Premnagar.

The police have registered a case of assault and blackmail against the three suspects. All the students are pursuing BBA from the University of Petroleum and Energy Studies (UPES), Bidhauli. The police said it was not clear why the three assaulted the victim.

Circle Officer Premnagar Pradeep Bisht citing the victim's complaint said while he was studying in his room on Sunday night (November 27), the three suspects came to his room and forced him to drink alcohol with them.

"The victim identified the three as Akarsh Gupta, Samsonjay Antony and Jeremy Malik," Bisht said.

The complainant alleged that the three then started assaulting him. They also stripped him naked and made videos, he alleged. The suspects also demanded Rs 60,000 for deleting the video. The victim student refused to pay up which led to a fresh assault on him, said Bisht. "Based on the complaint, a case has been registered against Akarsh Gupta (BBA first year), Jeremy Malik (BBA 2nd year), and Samanjoy Antony (BBA 2nd year)," said the officer.

"Indiscipline in any way will not be tolerated on the college campus," UPES Registrar Manish Madan told this paper. "We have taken strong note of the matter and are dealing with it in a very strict manner," said Madan.

The police said the victim was currently very scared.

Nath video on Cong 'frustration' over Rahul's yatra triggers row

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bhopal

WHILE the controversy pertaining to alleged shouting of 'Pakistan Zindabad' slogans in Rahul Gandhi's Bharat Jodo Yatra is yet to die down, yet another row has now been kicked during the ongoing Kanyakumari-Kashmir Yatra.

While, the former Congress national president Rahul Gandhi, on the 84th day of the Yatra (eighth day in MP) took a day's break from the Yatra in Ujjain on Wednesday, to fly to campaign in assembly polls bound Gujarat, back in MP another controversy pertaining to the Yatra, was triggered by a viral video.

A 1.08-minute viral video, in which the MP Congress chief and the former CM of the central Indian state, Kamal Nath, can be heard telling a Katha Vachak (religious preacher) Pradip Mishra, "Hum toh saat din se mar rahein hain," has kicked up the row, giving the ruling BJP another opportunity to take pot shots at Rahul Gandhi, his Yatra and also Kamal Nath.

In the viral video, Nath can be heard telling the religious preacher, "Hum toh saat din se mar rahein hain, do principles hain, subah 6 baje se chalna and aur ek din mein 24 km se kam nahi chalna hai. (We've been dying for seven days, there are two guiding principles for Rahul Gandhi, to start marching at 6 am and walk at least 24 km daily)," Nath is seen telling the religious preacher in the video, which was possibly shot in Indore on Tuesday.

He goes on to add that Rahul Gandhi had three pre-conditions for the Yatra in MP, including travelling to tribal icon Tantya Bhil's birthplace, Omkareshwar Temple and Mahakal Temple.

Meanwhile, the viral video and Nath's words, "Hum toh saat din se mar rahein hain," prompted the MP home minister Narottam Mishra to mock the Yatra, Rahul Gandhi as well as Nath.

"Kamal Nath Ji, I've seen your video and can feel your pain narrated best by the words hum toh saat din se mar rahein hain and also Rahul Gandhi making you add three places to the Yatra. Your pain is obvious and your words are also exposing his (Rahul Gandhi's) hypocrisy on religion and tribals," Mishra said.

"I pray Rahul Gandhi not to force those who are physically ill to walk in the Yatra, as it will make such people talk even about dying. Please ensure that your event doesn't become harmful to anyone," Mishra said, while apparently referring to the growing age of the 76-year-old Kamal Nath.

A few days back, the ruling BJP had alleged, while posting a video, about 'Pakistan Zindabad' slogans having been shouted during the Yatra in MP's Khargone district.

Kamal Nath Ji, I've seen your video and can feel your pain narrated best by the words hum toh saat din se mar rahein hain... Your pain is obvious and your words are also exposing his (Rahul Gandhi's) hypocrisy on religion and tribals— Narottam Mishra, MP home minister

Bail denied to NCP leader Nawab Malik

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mumbai

A special Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA) court refused bail to former Maharashtra minister and senior NCP leader Nawab Malik in an alleged money laundering case linked to fugitive gangster Dawood Ibrahim.

Pronouncing the order, the special judge said the two conditions laid down under section 45 of the PMLA were not satisfied. Section 45 says that a court can grant bail in PMLA cases if there are reasonable grounds to believe that the accused is not prima facie guilty of the offence, and he or she shall not commit any offense if released. The court also relied on the statements of witnesses and said there was continued possession of the tainted property. The court had reserved his order on the bail plea on November 14 after hearing lengthy arguments.

Rift in BJP widens over Srinagar mayoral post

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

AS the sword of no-confidence motion is hanging over Srinagar Mayor Junaid Mattu, the fight is turning between BJP versus BJP in the Valley.

Srinagar Mayor Junaid Mattu will be facing the 4th no confidence vote since elected as Mayor with BJP support in 2018 if no confidence motion is moved against him. He has won twice and once lost the no confidence motion only to make a comeback again with the support of BJP. However, now BJP corporators are not "happy with his way of functioning" and announced withdrawing support to Mattu.

A group of BJP corporators led by Nazir Gilkar addressed a press conference at the party office at Jawahar Nagar, Srinagar on Monday to announce withdrawal of support to Mayor Mattu. They pledged to support an independent group to vote out Mattu. Accusing Mattu of resorting to corruption and malpractices, Gilkar alleged that he had misused macadamisation funds worth crores and spent them in two constituencies Zadibal and Hazratbal in Srinagar. Mattu had quit the National Conference in 2018 to contest Srinagar Municipal Corporation polls and joined the Peoples Conference of Sajjad Lone. Mattu quit Peoples Conference in September 2020 and joined Apni Party of influential businessman and former PDP leader Altaf Bukhari.

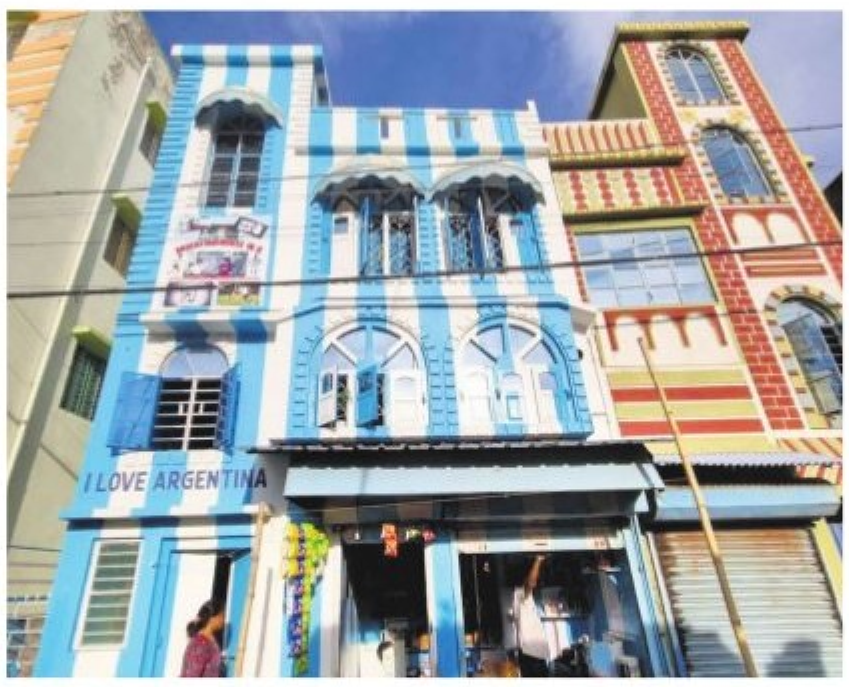
The BJP corporators press conference against Mattu party caught the saffron party off guard and left it red faced as Mattu was elected as Mayor of Srinagar on the party support. BJP Kashmir spokesman Altaf Thakur disowned the party corporators' press conference.Thakur said whatever they said, it may be their personal opinion but not the party's stand.

Soccer fan brings Argentina to Bengal

PRANAB MANDAL @ Kolkata

TEA seller and diehard fan of Argentina, Shib Shankar Patra could not fulfil his dream of watching FIFA World Cup 2018 live from the stand in Russia because of fund crunch. He decided to do the next best thing—paint his entire ancestral three-storey house in Argentina's blue and white colour with the savings that he garnered from his modest earnings.

When Bengal's soccer lovers are divided into supporters of two countries, Argentina and Brazil, Patra's house on the northern outskirts of Kolkata has become a place to visit for blue-white fans.



"In 2018, I dreamt of watching Lionel Messi's magic live from the stadium in Russia and managed to save Rs 60,000. But the travel agent told me that I would have to arrange at least Rs 1.5, lakh which was not possible for me. Initially, I was disappointed. But later, I decided to spend the savings to bring the colour of Argentina to my locality by painting my house in blue and white, like Messi's jersey,'' said Patra. Patra's house has got a fresh coat of paint before the FIFA World Cup 2022. The residence has become very popular in the locality.

The road leading up to Patra's house, where his tea-stall is located on the ground floor, is dotted with Argentina flags with a giant one fluttering high, making its presence felt.

Not only Patra, his wife Swapna, daughter Neha and son Shubham are equally crazy about Argentina and its fleet-footed genius. The Patra family never misses celebrating Messi's birthday. Clad in Argentina jerseys, they arrange a blue-white colour cake with a life-size cut out of the genius every year. "We do not miss a single match played by Messi representing Argentina. My children know everything about Messi,'' said Swapna. The World Cup 1986, which was aired live on Doordarshan, turned people of Kolkata and rest of the state into 'Maradona devotees' and currently Messi is an extension of the former soccer star.

Not only outside, the inside look of it reflects Patra's love for football. All the walls are painted in Argentine colour, even the small place where idols of gods are kept. Each room has a life-size flex print poster of Messi.

Covid restrictions lifted in Chinese city after protests

Residents demanding freedom scuffle with police in Guangzhou

BEIJING

AUTHORITIES in China's Guangzhou city lifted restrictions on some or all locked-down neighbourhoods on Wednesday afternoon amid violent protests by residents demanding relief from Covid lockdowns.

It comes as clashes broke out between police and protesters despite warning by China's top security body that authorities would "crack down" following the protests, which are the most widespread since pro-democracy rallies in 1989 that were crushed with deadly force. The demonstrations erupted over the weekend across major cities, including Beijing and Shanghai, with China's vast security apparatus moving swiftly to smother any further unrest.

But new clashes broke out in China's southern city of Guangzhou on Tuesday night and into Wednesday, according to witnesses and social media footage verified by AFP news agency.

Security personnel in hazmat suits formed ranks shoulder-to-shoulder, taking cover under see-through riot shields, to make their way down a street in the southern city's Haizhu district as glass smashed around them, videos posted on social media showed.

In the footage people could be heard screaming and shouting, with orange and blue barricades strewn across the ground. People are seen throwing objects at police, and later nearly a dozen men are filmed being taken away with their hands bound with cable ties.

A Guangzhou resident surnamed Chen told AFP on Wednesday that he had seen around 100 police officers converge on Houjiao village in Haizhu district and arrest at least three men on Tuesday night. Some students at Guangzhou's universities said they were forced out of their dormitories overnight Wednesday, according to social media posts, as a growing number of universities nationwide ordered students home in the wake of campus demonstrations.

Multiple Guangzhou districts lifted restrictions on some or all locked-down neighbourhoods Wednesday afternoon, according to government announcements.

Anger over China's zero-Covid policy — which involves lockdowns of huge numbers of people and has strangled the economy — has been the trigger for the protests.

A deadly fire last week in Urumqi, the capital of the northwestern region of Xinjiang, was the catalyst for the outrage, with people blaming Covid curbs for trapping victims inside the burning building.

But demonstrators have also demanded wider political reforms, with some even calling for President Xi Jinping to stand down. China's strict control of information and continued travel curbs have made verifying protester numbers across the vast country very challenging.

Signalling its zero-tolerance approach to the protests, China's top security body called for a "crackdown" on what it described as "hostile forces". AFP

HK security chief warns against backing protests

Hong Kong's security chief said he saw indications of a "colour revolution" at events held in solidarity with Chinese protesters and warned Wednesday they may violate the city's national security law. "I noticed some early signs of another colour revolution," he said, using a euphemism favoured by Beijing and other authoritarian govts to describe allegedly foreign-backed protests.

Jiang Zemin guided China's economic rise

BEIJING

JIANG ZEMIN
AUGUST 1926 — NOVEMBER 2022

JIANG Zemin, who led China out of isolation after the army crushed the Tiananmen Square pro-democracy protests in 1989 and supported economic reforms that led to a decade of explosive growth, died Wednesday. He was 96. Jiang, who was president for a decade until 2003 and led the ruling Communist Party for 13 years until 2002, died of leukemia and multiple organ failure in Shanghai, state media reported.

His death comes after the party faced its most widespread public show of opposition in decades when crowds called for leader Xi Jinping to resign during weekend protests of anti-virus controls that are confining millions of people to their homes.

A surprise choice to lead a divided Communist Party after the 1989 turmoil, Jiang saw China through history-making changes including a revival of market-oriented reforms, the return of Hong Kong from British rule in 1997 and Beijing's entry into the World Trade Organization in 2001.

Even as China opened to the outside, Jiang's government stamped out dissent. It jailed human rights, labor and pro-democracy activists and banned the Falun Gong spiritual movement, which the ruling party saw as a threat to its monopoly on power. Jiang gave up his last official title in 2004 but remained a force behind the scenes in wrangling that led to the rise of Xi, who took power in 2012. Xi has tightened political control, crushed China's little remaining dissent and reasserted the dominance of state industry.

Jiang was responsible for China "getting onto a global platform and rehabilitating itself after 1989," said Kerry Brown, a Chinese politics expert at King's College London. "He will be remembered as someone who made probably a pretty positive contribution."

Rumors that Jiang might be in poor health spread after he missed a ruling party congress in October at which Xi, China's most powerful figure since at least the 1980s, broke with tradition and awarded himself a third five-year term as leader.

Jiang was on the verge of retirement as the party secretary for Shanghai in 1989 when he was drafted by then-paramount leader Deng Xiaoping to pull together the party and nation. He succeeded Zhao Ziyang, who was dismissed by Deng due to his sympathy for the student-led Tiananmen protesters.

In 13 years as party general secretary, China's most powerful post, Jiang guided the country's rise to economic power by welcoming capitalists into the party and pulling in foreign investment after China joined the WTO.

China passed Germany and then Japan to become the second-largest economy after the United States. AP

Islamic State says its leader killed in battle

BAGHDAD

THE Islamic State jihadist group said on Wednesday that its leader Abu Hasan al-Hashimi al-Qurashi has been killed in battle and announced a replacement.

A spokesman for the group said Hashimi, an Iraqi, was killed "in combat with enemies of God", without elaborating on the date or circumstances of his death. Speaking in an audio message, the spokesman identified the group's new leader as Abu al-Hussein al-Husseini al-Qurashi. Qurashi refers to a tribe of the Prophet Mohammed, from whom IS leaders must claim descent. After a meteoric rise in 2014 that saw it conquer vast swathes of territory, IS saw its self-proclaimed "caliphate" collapse under a wave of offensives. AFP

INDONESIA

Four jailed for torture in oil palm slavery case

Four Indonesians were each sentenced to 19 months in prison on Wednesday after being found guilty of torturing to death two people trafficked to work on an oil palm plantation that supplied global brands. The victims succumbed to their injuries inside two cages on the property of a local politician in Indonesia's North Sumatra province, in the country's latest case of modern slavery. Rights groups say key industries in Indonesia such as palm oil and fishing are riddled with forced labour or exploitation of workers. "The defendants have been found guilty of committing torture that caused the deaths of others, which was done together," judge Halida Rahardini ruled. One of the defendants, the son of a local politician, was also ordered to pay $17,000 in compensation to the victim's families

Deal finalised to establish rehabilitation centres

Thailand's Ministry of Public Health has reached with agencies, including the armed forces to establish a programme to improve access to drug rehabilitation services. The agreement calls to establish rehabilitation centres by the end of 2023. The health ministry will take care of administrative work and establishment of centres. Army agencies will provide personnel for the development of these centres

SINGAPORE

City-state to lure foreign nurses with big package

Amid growing global demand for nurses, Singapore has a competitive edge owing to its proximity to source countries such as the Philippines and India as well as relatively painless application process, as per healthcare workers and experts. Singapore is also attempting to replace nurses lost to other nations during the pandemic, including by dangling bigger pay packets. According to the Singapore Nursing Board, foreign-trained nurses who wish to work in Singapore must sit for a licensure examination and undergo a competency assessment. This is unlike other countries such as the US or the UK, where foreigners seeking job may also need to take extra steps such as an English language test. The cost of each test typically ranges between $180 to $325

Germany seeks skilled workers from outside EU

Berlin: The German government said on Wednesday that it plans to ease entry rules for immigrants from outside the European Union to help meet Germany's demand for skilled workers. Experts say Europe's biggest economy needs about 4,00,000 skilled immigrants each year as the country's ageing workforce shrinks, particularly to fill vacancies in the health care, IT and construction sectors.

US Senate passes same-sex marriage bill

Washington: The Senate passed bipartisan legislation to protect same-sex marriages, an extraordinary sign of shifting national politics on the issue and a measure of relief for the thousands of same-sex couples who have married since the Supreme Court's 2015 decision that legalised gay marriage. Joe Biden said he will sign the bill "promptly and proudly" if it is passed by the House.

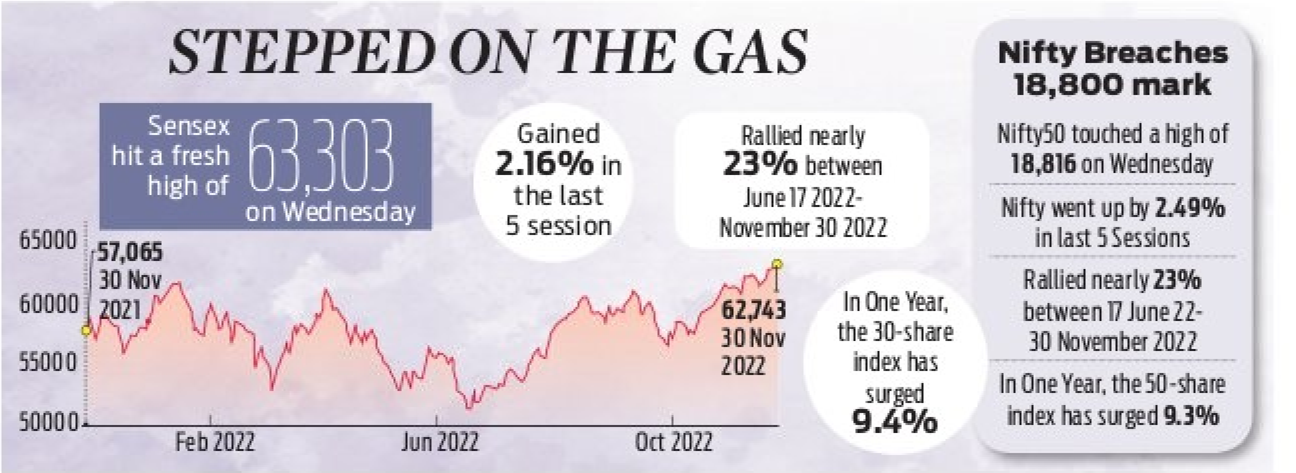
Sensex hits 63K for the first time

Analysts say markets need to face the Fed and RBI policy meetings in December

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi



INDIA'S equity market continues its dream run with the two benchmarks- BSE Sensex and NSE Nifty-gaining for the seventh straight session and hitting new all-time highs.

The Sensex closed above the 63,000 level for the first time ever while the broader Nifty settled above the 18,750 mark.

The 30 share index hit an intraday high of 63,303 and the 50-share Nifty touched a high of 18,816 on Wednesday.

The Sensex closed the day at 63,099, up 0.67%, and the Nifty shut shop at 18,758, up 0.75%.

While the current rally, which picked up during early October, is being aided by expectations of reduction in future rate hike by central banks, easing of crude price and sustained investment by foreign investors, some analysts are not ruling out a short-term correction, citing the expensive valuation.

Vinod Nair, Head of Research at Geojit Financial Services, said, "Shortly, markets will have to digest the Fed & RBI policy meetings in December, which will determine the future trend of interest rates & economic growth. Inflation & interest rates are forecasted to be upbeat in 2023, which will weigh on central bank's monetary policy and affect the performance of equities." He added, "It is highly possible that India's future performance will be a challenge, being the most expensive market compared to other emerging markets, which are trading very cheaply today. Hence, there is a risk that India will underperform, while the total performance will depend on the overall performance of the global market, which has to overcome the risk of recession."

India's market on Thursday will react to the domestic GDP growth data which slowed down to 6.3% during the second quarter of FY23. The market will also react to US Federal Reserve chief Jerome Powell's speech and auto sales figures that they cause stock-specific movements. Santosh Meena, Head of Research, Swastika Investmart, expects the bullish trend to continue.

'Inflation will be within the tolerance band'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

FINANCE Minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Wednesday said that India will succeed in handling inflation better and it will be well within the tolerance band by early next year or middle of next year.

She said the government has already put in place a "very good framework" in place to address supply side pressures on food prices.

"We probably will succeed in handling inflation better and there is clearly a picture from the RBI that is on a downward slide and it will be well within the tolerance band by early next year or middle of next year," said Sitharaman, who is scheduled to present the Union Budget for 2023-24 early next year. The retail inflation based on the consumer price index (CPI) has remained above the Reserve Bank's comfort level of 6% since January.

India's fiscal deficit widens to ₹7.6 lakh crore in Apr-Oct'22

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

INDIA'S fiscal deficit expanded to ₹7.58 lakh crore in April-October period, 39% higher than that of the same period last year, as non-tax revenues contracted by 14%, revenue expenditures rose 10% and capex surged 62%.

The fiscal deficit has breached 45% of the full year budget estimate during the period October, the government data showed. In the same period of the last year, the fiscal deficit, which is the difference between expenditure and revenue, stood at 36% of the budget estimates of 2021-22.The fiscal deficit of the government is expected to be at 6.4% of the GDP.

Net tax receipts surged to ₹11.71 lakh crore, registering an 11% growth over the same period last year . Total receipts that include tax, non-tax revenues and capital receipts increased 8% to ₹13.6 lakh crore.

The total expenditure was at ₹21.44 lakh crore- – with revenue expenditure at ₹17.4 lakh crore and capital expenditure at ₹4.1 lakh crore. Capital expenditure, which is money spent in creating infrastructure, rose 61% year-on-year in the first seven months of the current financial year. "While monthly capex stepped down from ₹90,561 crore in September 2022 to ₹66,125 crore in October 2022, the latter marked a sharp year-on-year jump, which was partly driven by a welcome rise in the capital transfers to states, reflecting the release of funds under the interest free capex loan scheme," says Aditi Nayar, chief economist, ICRA Ltd. According to the EY, the government's fiscal data showed a healthy growth in the government's gross tax revenues (GTR) at 18% during the first seven months of FY23, well above the budgeted full year growth of 10.7% over FY22 RE (revised estimates) and of only 1.8% over the actual numbers. The growth in GTR during April to October FY23 is largely driven by growth in direct taxes at nearly 26%.

"We expect the FY23 GTR growth to be close to 18% given the high nominal GDP growth of 21.2% in 1HFY23," DK Srivastava, Chief Economic Advisor, EY India said. Assuming a growth of 18% in GTR in FY23, its magnitude would exceed the budgeted level by a margin of nearly ₹4.4 lakh crore, he said.

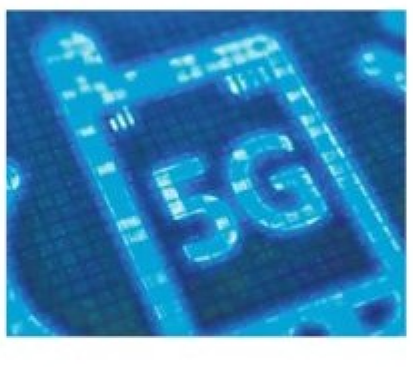
DoT bars telcos to set up 5G sites around airports

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi



THE Department of Telecommunication (DoT) has directed telecom service providers (TSPs) not to set up any 5G sites in C-band around the airport in the country.

In a letter to the telcos, DoT advised them to avoid installing any 5G sites in the 3,300-3,670 MHz band (C-band) within 2.1 kilometres of both ends of the runway at any airport.

This means areas in the vicinity of the airports won't get 5G services for now.

"5G base stations can be set up in the periphery of 540 metres after this 2.1 kms range. However, power emission has to be restricted to 58 dBm/MHz," said the DoT in a letter to telecom operators.

The tussle between the aviation sector and telecom operators over 5G deployment around the airport began in the US when the FAA (Federal Aviation Administration) asked the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) not to roll out 5G in C-band or mid-band near airports. In India too, a 6,000 pilots-strong Federation of Indian Pilots wrote to the Civil Aviation Ministry and raised similar concerns.

Technically, C-Band is believed to be a sweet spot for rolling out 5G services for telecom operators around the world as it provides coverage as well as high bandwidth. But for aviation bodies, its altimeters, which allow pilots to understand height, also operate in C-band.

Food delivery platform Swiggy shuts cloud kitchen brand in Delhi-NCR

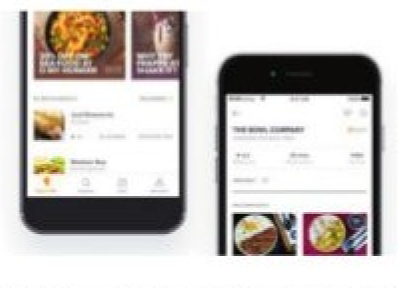
UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

FOOD delivery platform Swiggy has shut down The Bowl Company, the cloud kitchen brand in the Delhi-NCR region. It plans to focus on its cloud kitchen business in southern cities.

It is said that Delhi-NCR was part of an experiment or pilot that the food delivery platform was running.

A Swiggy spokesperson said, "The expansion of The Bowl Company in Delhi/ NCR was an experiment we ran to bring new food experiences to users. This experiment has led to its due learnings, even as we focus on operational excellence for the brand."

The spokesperson added that they will continue to invest and grow The Bowl Company in cities such as Bengaluru, Chennai and Hyderabad where the brand is growing.



Innumerable brands from the same kitchen

Zomato said it will manually check any physical location that runs over 10 brands out of a single location. It said customers' average delivery rating for operators goes down if brands from a single kitchen goes up.

Cloud kitchen is one of the fastest growing segments, and there are various types of cloud kitchen models such as standalone, multi-brand and co-working, among others. It creates cost efficiencies in the kitchen. According to India Brand Equity Foundation (IBEF), there are over 20,000 active cloud kitchens in Delhi, and that the number is increasing by over 20% annually.

With the increased demand for online food delivery services, cloud kitchens are also thriving in the country. IBEF says by the end of 2023 and 2024, the domestic cloud kitchen market is expected to increase from $ 400 million in 2019 to reach $ 1.05 billion by the end of 2023 and $ 2 billion by 2024.

According to the Food Safety and Standards Authority of India (FSSAI), cloud kitchen entities can supply its products to multiple brands. Zomato recently said that it will manually check any physical location that runs over 10 brands out of a single location.

Panel suggests gas price of $4-6.5/unit

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE government-appointed gas price review panel headed by Kirit Parikh has recommended a floor price of $4 per mmBtu (Metric Million British Thermal Unit) and a cap of $6.5 per mmBtu for legacy and old fields being operated by ONGC and OIL.

A report submitted by the panel suggested linking price of gas produced by state-owned firms from fields given to them on a nomination basis to imported crude oil prices rather than benchmarking them to gas rates in international markets, adding that the rates thus arrived would be subject to a floor and ceiling. It suggested the ceiling rate for this gas from legacy or old fields, called APM gas, will be increased by $0.5 per mmBtu annually.

Govt may bring OTT players under licence

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

THE government may accept the demand of telecom operators to bring OTT (over-the-top) communication under the licencing ambit or light regulation, a senior official from the Department of Telecommunication (DoT) said on Wednesday.

The official, citing anonymity, also told this newspaper that the government will most likely introduce the Telecom Bill this winter session of parliament after proper consultation. "Of course, the level playing issue is there as these OTT communication players are providing calling or messaging services. If they can't be brought under proper licencing they can be at least regulated," said the official. The Draft Telecom Bill 2022, which seeks to replace the Indian Telegraph Act, 1885, the Indian Wireless Telegraphy Act, 1933, and the Telegraph Wires Act, 1950, proposes many changes, including a provision to bring OTT players like Whatsapp, Zoom and Google Duo under the licencing ambit.

However, IT companies and OTT players have raised concerns on the issue. Broadband India Forum, which counts tech companies such as Tata Consultancy Services, Cisco and Internet and Mobile Association of India (IAMAI), said regulating OTT players could hurt start-up ecosystem and innovation. However, the Cellular Operator Association of India (COAI), advocated bringing the companies under licencing, citing a level playing field.

BELGIUM & CROATIA IN DO-OR-DIE BATTLE

TWO OF 2018'S FOUR SEMI-FINALISTS GO HEAD-TO-HEAD IN A CLASH WHERE THE LOSERS WILL LIKELY BID FAREWELL. A LOOK AT BELGIUM VS CROATIA...

BELGIUM'S OFF-FIELD ISSUES

Kevin de Bruyne thinks they are an old side. Keeper Thibaur Courtois has played down speculation of infighting. Romelu Lukaku has had injury problems. Eden Hazard is battling poor form. Suffice to say they are a shadow of the side that were within one goal of taking France to extra-time in the 2018 semifinals.

TROSSARD TO GET A LOOK IN?

Roberto Martinez has showed immense faith and loyalty in this ageing side. But they are not the same side. They are slower, the passes aren't finding colleagues and elite performers are letting the team down. One way to address this is to bring in Leandro Trossard as a false nine or on the left-hand side. He's fluid, in form and will take on the responsibility.

KRAMARIC'S MOVEMENT UP FRONT

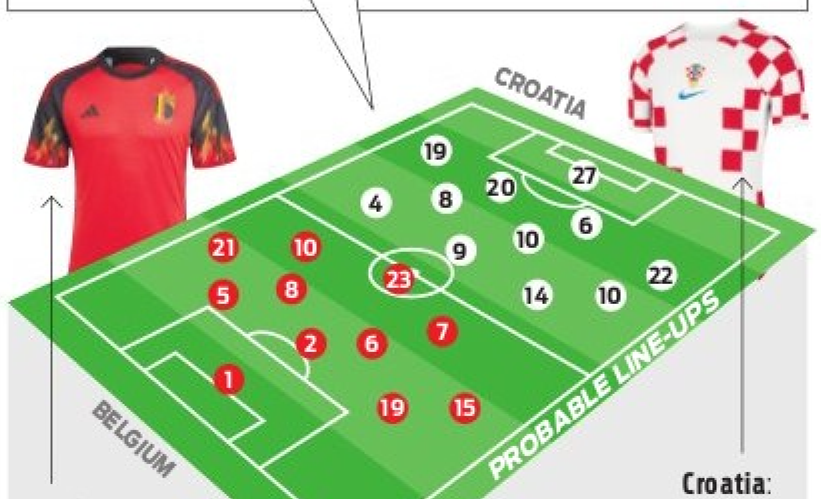
Andrej Kramaric is a man in form. His brace against Canada settled the nerves after a bad start. He will dovetail with midfield runners. Considering Belgium's midfielders are in the November of their careers, the forward will look at running directly at them. Expect goals.

BATTLE IN THE HEART OF MIDFIELD

Luka Modric, Mateo Kovacic and Marcelo Brozovic are all on the wrong side of 30 or getting there. Yet, the trio continue to be in pristine shape, like a newly delivered Rolls Royce. Modric, especially, was in fine fettle in the big win over Canada. If Belgium midfield continue to underperform, Croatia will win this battle.

SCENARIO IN GROUP F

Croatia will advance if they avoid defeat while Belgium go through only if they win. Morocco will go through if they avoid defeat against already eliminated Canada.



Belgium: Courtois (1), Dendoncker (19), Alderweireld (2), Vertonghen (5), Meunier (15), Witsel (6), Tielemans (8), Castagne (21), De Bruyne (7), Hazard (10), Batshuayi (23)

Croatia: Livakovic (27), Juranovic (22), Lovren (6), Gvardiol (20), Sosa (19), Modric (10), -Brozovic (11), Kovacic (8), Livaja (14), Kramaric (9), Perisic (4)

GERMANY NEED A WIN AND HELP TO AVOID EARLY ELIMINATION

CIAREN FAHEY @ Doha

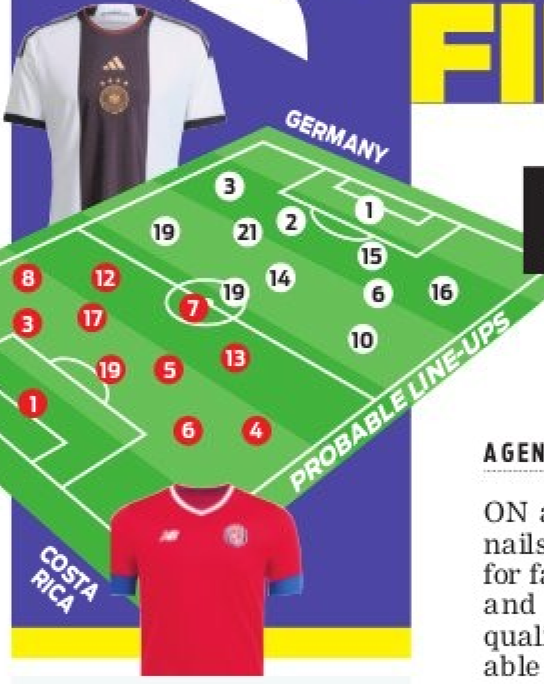
AFTER getting a favor from Costa Rica, Germany need a win against the Central American team on Thursday to have any chance of reaching the knockout stages at the World Cup. Costa Rica's surprise win over Japan on Sunday ensured Germany did not face the prospect of immediate elimination with a loss to Spain later that day. With the pressure off, Germany fought back from a goal down and drew 1-1 thanks to Niclas Fullkrug's late equalizer to postpone its fate to its final game in Group E.

Germany will advance to the round of 16 with a win if Spain also beat Japan in the other group game. Costa Rica control their fate and will advance with a win.

Even a draw would be enough for Costa Rica to reach the knockout stages if Spain beat Japan in the group's other game being played at the same time. Spain lead Group E with four points after two games, followed by Japan and Costa Rica both on three, while Germany has just one. "We have a lot of humility," said Germany midfielder Thomas Muller, who pointed to the team's position in the table. "There isn't much reason to be really euphoric." Muller said Germany's late draw against Spain provided a morale boost for the team, as well as the chance to get to the knockout stages and "show the football world what we're really made of."

Germany were in a similar situation at the last World Cup in Russia, where Joachim Low's team lost their opening game 1-0 to Mexico before beating Sweden 2-1. A win against South Korea in the final group game would have ensured the defending champions progressed, but it slipped to a 2-0 loss and crashed out.

Qatar FIFA WORLD CUP FINALS 2022



Germany: Neuer (1), Klostermann (16), Sule (15), Rudiger (2), Raum (3), Kimmich (6), Gundogan (21), Gnabry (10), Musiala (14), Sane (19), Fulkrug (9)

Costa Rica: Navas (1), Duarte (6), Waston (19), Vargas (3), Fuller (4), Borges (5), Tejeda (17), Oviedo (8), Torres (13), Campbell (12), Contreras (7)

MATCH POINT

Germany face Costa Rica in a winner-takes-all battle in Group E

FULLKRUG HAS TO PLAY

The four-time champions, still chasing their first win of the Cup, have a new solution up front. Niclas Fullkrug came on against Spain and changed the complexion of the match, scoring fine goal from close range. It's likely he will start to give them a threat up front.

DEFENSIVE ORGANISATION

In their defensive display against Japan, they showed what they always do. Pride themselves on defensive discipline. That seven against Spain was an aberration. They will look to do the more of the same.

SCENARIO IN GROUP E

If Spain avoid defeat against Japan, they are through. Both Japan and Spain will go through with a draw if the Germany - Costa Rica match does not have a winner. For Germany to go through, they need a win.

Group F: Croatia vs Belgium; Canada vs Morocco (8:30 PM)

Group E: Japan vs Spain; Costa Rica vs Germany (12:30 AM).

Woman referee set to make history

DOHA: French referee Stephanie Frappart will become the first woman to take charge of a men's World Cup game when she handles Germany vs Costa Rica on Thursday. FIFA also picked two women as assistants to Frappart — Neuza Back of Brazil and Mexico's Karen Diaz Medina — to complete an all-female refereeing team on the field. A fourth woman match official, Kathryn Nesbitt of the US, will also be working at the Al Bayt Stadium as the offside specialist in the VAR team.

DANE & DUSTED, OZ ADVANCE

Australia pip Denmark to seal 2nd spot, Tunisia's historic win over France in vain

AGENCIES @ Doha

ON an evening when fingernails became edible food items for fans of Australia, Tunisia and Denmark, the former qualified in the most remarkable of circumstances. Just when it looked like the African nation had taken a march after they had taken the lead against an already qualified, much changed France, the Socceroos found the net. In the 58th minute, Wahbi Khazri engineered a counter and scored a breakaway goal to send the wall of red in the stands into delirium.

Two minutes later, that delirium turned into disappointment as news filtered in of an Australia goal, Matthew Leckie scoring. It stayed the same way till the final whistle.

While the two-time champions introduced the cavalry — Kylian Mbappe and Ousmane Dembele among others — from the bench to get what they needed to go through as group toppers, Tunisia, who had scored zero goals coming into the match, clung on. Bodies were routinely flying all over their penalty box, balls were launched up-field to try and catch them on the counter.

In the other match, Denmark, who have been profligate throughout the competition (one goal scored from 33 shots on goal), faced those same problems. Their passing patters were pretty, they progressed the ball through the lines well. But it was stopped abruptly by a yellow wall.

Captain America and the start of promising times

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@ Chennai

CHRISTIAN Pulisic threw himself at the ball. Iran keeper, Alireza Beiranvand, was in close attendance so there was every chance that Pulisic would harm himself. Yet, he didn't care. He was fuelled by the memory of October 10, 2017. In a World Cup qualifier at Trinidad & Tobago, US, prohibitive favourites, arrive at the Ato Boldon Stadium in Couva. On the line was a remarkable run that saw them qualify for all World Cups from 1990.

Over a remarkable 90 minutes, T&T pulled off the unthinkable. Pulisic scored one that night but it wasn't enough. People associated with the USMNT continue to talk about that night, it's almost a verb. For Pulisic, it was more than a disappointment. It had become a millstone. Nineteen then, he was hailed as US football's great modern hope. Only a teen, yet the disappointment hit him full on.

"I just want every USA soccer fan reading this to understand, that no matter what decisions are made over these next couple of years ... no matter what changes are implemented ... no matter who the coach is, or what the roster looks like: I'm going to be obsessed with winning. And I'm going to be obsessed with doing my part to help US Soccer get over the hump," he wrote in a letter addressed to US fans a month or so after that night in Couva.

"Because yeah, O.K. ... we're not going to the World Cup."

"But there's going to be a World Cup after that. And a World Cup after that. And a World Cup after that. And I think — I hope — that we're going to be able to build something, here, with US Soccer...So let's plan on it, then — 2022."

Like he promised, 2022 was here. He was yards off the cross sent in by Sergino Dest but the only option was to launch himself. He made contact with the ball and the ball nestled in the back of the net. US 1-0 Iran.

While the US fans are jumping up and down, Pulisic was down, hurt and writhing in pain inside Iran's goal. He's known as Captain America for obvious reasons. He lived up to his name but at a considerable cost to his immediate health. Pulisic tried to continue gamely but he knows his game was done. The last 20 minutes was filled with tension. US, who have run out of gas thanks to their high energy and intense pressing, grimly launched the ball up the field without an attacking outlet. Iran came close several times but their hunger and desire is not matched by the quality, understandable because of what's at stake.

US hang on for a priceless win. The reward is a round of 16 clash against Netherlands on Saturday night. Pulisic, suffering from pelvic contusion, is touch and go.

Between that night in Couva and Tuesday night in Doha, Pulisic has grown up. He has gone from US' next great hope to be a bit-part player at Chelsea. He battled depression and received professional help. He also became the first USMNT player to win the Champions League. Whether Pulisic plays or not against Netherlands is secondary. Because, at some level, the Chelsea attacker is now a part of a golden generation. Before he came along, they were a hard-working but limited team that had a floor but no ceiling. Now there is not only a floor but a ceiling that continues to rise.

They are the youngest side in the tournament. So, it's not a surprise that they rely a lot on rapid transitions and intense pressing from the off. That midfield of theirs can lay claim to be one of the better ones of this tournament (that they controlled the game against England was not a fluke). Weston McKennie, 24, a box-to-box operator, plays for Juventus. Skipper Tyler Adams plays for Leeds. Yunas Musah, 20, plays for Valencia. At the back, Dest, who bombs up and down the right flank, is 22. He plays for AC Milan. Keeper Matt Turner is at Arsenal. Playermaker Gio Reyna plays for Dortmund. He's 20. Pressing machine Brendan Aaronson is Adams' teammate at Leeds. He's 22. Tim Weah, son of former Ballon d'Or winner, George, is 22. He plays for Lille. Long story short, the federation decided to give youth a go at the expense of experienced players who have been to previous World Cups.

QUICK PASSES

Bale will continue as long as possible

DOHA: Gareth Bale shot down suggestions he could have played his final game for Wales after bowing out of the World Cup at the group stage. Bale was forced to come off at half-time of a 3-0 defeat to England with a hamstring injury. "I'll keep going as long as I can and as long as I'm wanted," he said. "It's a difficult moment now. But we go again. We have a qualifying campaign (for Euro 2024) starting in March and we have a few months to get away from international football now."

Canada coach eyes long stay

DOHA: John Herdman wants to remain as Canada's coach through the 2026 World Cup in North America after leading the nation to its return to soccer's top tournament. "Eleven years of work in this country and I've been pioneering for a long period of time, and you'll not find anyone as passionate as I am about this program or about these players or about this staff," Herdman said.

Rainbow items are allowed: FIFA

DOHA: FIFA finally gave a public assurance on Wednesday that rainbow items and banners supporting protests in Iran will be allowed into stadiums. Stadium security staff organized by Qatari authorities had seized items with rainbow colours and slogans such as "Women. Life. Freedom" to stop them from getting inside stadiums. In the first week of the tournament, seven European teams including Wales lost the fight to wear multi-coloured "One Love" armbands during World Cup.

In Cisse, a man Senegal trust with their heart and soul

VISHNU PRASAD

EVERY World Cup has that standout figure — someone who might neither be the best manager or the player, but is nevertheless memorable enough for fans to remember long after the tournament. Everyone remembers the way Roger Milla broke out into dance after his goals in 1990, Carlos Valderrama's head full of bouncing orange fizz in 1994, Fabien Barthez's shiny bald head in 1998 being kissed by Laurent Blanc after every game.

In Qatar 2022, that figure appears to be Aliou Cisse. Social media is awash with comments of his dreadlocks, his energy on the sidelines, his apparent resemblance to the rapper Snoop Dogg (a topic on which Snoop Dogg himself commented). He is indeed the flavour of the month, a distraction from the rather serious socio-political issues that have otherwise dominated the discourse in Qatar.

Kalidou Koulibaly

Casual fans might have only discovered Cisse now but he has been around for a long time. He was there in Russia, with the same hairstyle — he is one of the select few coaches to return to Qatar as manager alongside the likes of Didier Deschamps, Tite, Roberto Martinez and Gareth Southgate. There might not be a more important figure for Senagalese football. He was the captain of the miracle team of 2002 which beat world champions France and reached the quarterfinals.

In 2015, with Senegalese football seemingly in the doldrums, his country turned to Cisse again. Senegal had not qualified for the World Cup since their only appearance in 2002. They had just exited the African Cup of Nations in the group stage. Cisse's task was not only to get Senegal back to where they were, but to also take them one step forward — for all their talent, Senegal's golden generation did not win a major trophy.

It is easy to imagine why everyone thought Cisse was the best man for the job. On various occasions, former teammates have talked about his quiet determination, an insistence on getting on with things no matter the setback. Perhaps the best illustration of this lies in the greatest tragedy of his life. In 2002, MV Le Joola, a ferry owned by the Senegalese government, capsized off the coast of Gambia, killing 1863 people. Among the victims were eleven members of Cisse's family. Karren Brady, managing director of Birmingham City FC for whom Cisse was playing at the time, wrote that he kept that tragedy to himself for days before the club found out. "Naturally we invited him to take indefinite leave but that wasn't his way of mourning," she wrote in The Sun. "He stayed with us for all but a few days, going about his business with dignity, asking for no favours, showing incredible mental strength."

By 2018, Cisse had led Senegal back to the World Cup and restored their status as an African powerhouse. However, here too setbacks lay in wait. They exited the World Cup in the group stages by virtue of having accumulated more yellow cards than Japan — every other metric had them tied. Then, in 2019, they lost in the final of the African Cup of Nations to Algeria, the same hurdle at which Cisse had faltered as a player.

Cisse, though, had his revenge on fate. Senegal won their first-ever African Cup of Nations title in 2021, beating Egypt in the final. And now, they have erased the pain of 2018 by qualifying for the knockout stages. Sometimes, quiet determination is all you need!

Daughter says Pele in hospital to regulate medication

AP @ Sao Paulo

BRAZILIAN football great Pele was hospitalized in Sao Paulo to regulate the medication in his fight against a colon tumor, his daughter said on Wednesday. Kely Nascimento added that there was "no emergency" concerning her 82-year-old father's health.

Nascimento, who lives in the United States, made the comments in an Instagram post after what she called "lots of alarm in the media today concerning my dad's health." ESPN Brasil reported earlier that the three-time World Cup champion was taken to Hospital Albert Einstein due to "general swelling." "Really and truly, we appreciate the concern and love," Nascimento said.

Spokespeople for Pele and Hospital Albert Einstein did not reply to a request for comment from The Associated Press. Pele removed a tumor in September of 2021, with the hospital saying then that he would begin chemotherapy.

Edson Arantes do Nascimento, globally known as Pele, has used his social media channels since then to deny he was in poor health. His latest public comment was in an Instagram post on Oct. 23, his birthday. "I just want to express my gratitude. Life is good. Turning 82 with my family, in good health, is the best gift. Thank you for everything I have received," he said in a video. Pele helped Brazil win the 1958, 1962 & 1970 WCs and remains the country's all-time leading scorer.

'ENGLAND BETTER THAN 2018 RUN'

Coach Southgate believes that the team is a lot more confident than the previous WC

AFP @ Al Khor

GARETH Southgate says England will go into the World Cup knockout stage in better shape and with more belief than in their 2018 run to the semi-finals. Southgate's side powered into the last 16 as Group B winners after a second-half blitz inspired their 3-0 victory over Wales in Doha on Tuesday.

Marcus Rashford scored twice, either side of Phil Foden's strike, to book a last-16 clash with Senegal on Sunday. After reaching the knockout phase as group runners-up to Belgium in the last World Cup in Russia four years ago, Southgate believes England are far more battle-hardened and confident this time around. "I think there is a different mentality. More belief. Our objectives are different. In Russia, we were just thinking, 'Can we win a knockout game?' Now there is more confidence and more experience of knockout matches," Southgate said.

England ended their long run of failure in major tournament knockout matches when they beat Colombia on penalties in the last 16 in Russia, sparking a run to the last four that culminated in defeat by Croatia. That was a breakthrough moment for England after years in the doldrums before Southgate took charge in 2016, with the Three Lions going on to finish as European Championship runners-up last year. Ending their wait for a first major trophy since Bobby Moore lifted the 1966 World Cup remains England's holy grail and Southgate's men look capable of fulfilling the country's ambition. After a drab goalless draw against the United States, England swept aside Wales with the same ruthless finishing they showed in a 6-2 rout of Iran in their group opener. With England reestablished as one of the leading contenders to win the World Cup, Southgate said his squad are in a good place. The positives vibes among Southgate's players were clear to see as they laughed and joked with their families at the Ahmad bin Ali Stadium after vanquishing Wales. "We are pleased the first objective is achieved. The spirit of the team is good," Southgate said. "We have got most of the team on the pitch which is fabulous for the dynamic."

Ruturaj making right noises for India return

FIROZ MIRZA @ Chennai

BARELY a month after making a forgettable ODI debut for India, Pune batter Ruturaj Gaikwad led Maharashtra to a thumping win against Railways in their opening match of the Vijay Hazare Trophy earlier this month. He scored an unbeaten 124 as Maharashtra chased down 219 in 38.2 overs with seven wickets to spare. He contributed 40 in the next match as they continued their winning run against Bengal. However, swelling on his left wrist meant Gaikwad had to skip the next four group matches.

Without the services of their captain, Maharashtra made it to the knockouts giving Gaikwad yet another opportunity to remind India selectors of his existence. And he did the same by hammering two successive daddy hundreds to take the team into its maiden Vijay Hazare final.

En route to his first of the two successive centuries, he equalled the world record of 43 runs in an over, smashing seven sixes off Uttar Pradesh left-arm spinner Shiva Singh. His next ton in the semifinal against Assam on Wednesday, which was his overall 11th of the tournament, is also a record. Along with teammate Ankit Bawne, who scored 110, he matched Robin Uthappa's record for the most tons in the tournament. He has scored 552 runs in four matches with an astounding average of 276 including three centuries so far. Maharashtra coach Santosh Jhede feels Gaikwad is letting his bat talk to reclaim his place in the national fold. "He is out of the team and it's quite obvious that he wants to get back there as soon as possible. He is scoring big hundreds and by doing that he is making the right noise for his inclusion in the team," the Maharashtra coach told this daily after their 12-run win in the semifinal against Assam on Wednesday. Jhede is quite sure that Gaikwad will soon regain his lost place. "He got only an ODI and nine T20Is so far. He is very confident and prepared to leave his marks whenever he gets a chance again. He is determined and very strong mentally. To sum up, he is a different type of guy," he said. Given the conditions, he wants to bat second against Saurashtra, who beat Karnataka to enter the summit clash on Friday.

Brief scores: Maharashtra: 350/7 in 50 ovs (Gaikwad 168, Bawne 110; Hussain 3/42) bt Assam 332/8 in 50 ovs (Purkayastha 95, Roy 78; R Hangargekar 4/65); Karnataka 171 in 49.1 ovs (Unadkat 4/26, Mankad 2/34) lost to Saurashtra 141/5 in 31 ovs (K Gowtham 2/50).

Egyptians call on British Museum to return Rosetta Stone

The debate over who owns ancient artifacts has been an increasing challenge to museums across Europe and America, and the spotlight has fallen on the most visited piece in the British Museum: The Rosetta Stone

DELVING INTO THE HISTORY

The acquisition of Rosetta Stone was tied up in battles between UK & France. After Napoleon's army occupation of Egypt, French scientists found the stone in 1799 in Rashid, known as Rosetta by French

When British forces defeated the French, the stone was handed over to the UK under the terms of an 1801 deal between generals of two sides

STONE CONTAINS SPOIL OF WAR

Monica Hanna's petition, dean at Arab Academy for Science, Technology & Maritime Transport, says the stone was seized illegally and constitutes a 'spoil of war'

The claim is also echoed in a petition by Zahi Hawass, Egypt's former minister for antiquities affairs. Hawass argues that Egypt had no say in the 1801 agreement

New Alzheimer's drug offers hope

HEALTH

TOKYO: A new drug, lecanemab, has been found to slow down cognitive decline in Alzheimer's patients, according to a study that could lead to new treatments for the neurodegenerative disease.

Preliminary data from a trial of lecanemab was released in September and found it slowed cognitive decline by 27% across an 18-month period. However, the findings also raise concern about the incidence of adverse effects including brain bleeds and swelling.

The results showed 17.3% of patients administered the drug experienced brain bleeds, compared with 9% of those receiving a placebo. And 12.6% of those taking the drug experienced brain swelling, compared with just 1.7% of those in the placebo group.

The results were broadly welcomed by researchers and campaigners for patients with the disease.

In Alzheimer's disease, two key proteins, tau and amyloid beta, build up into tangles and plaques, known together as aggregates, which cause brain cells to die and lead to brain shrinkage.

Lecanemab works by targeting amyloid, and Bart De Strooper, director of the UK Dementia Research Institute said the drug proved effective at clearing it but also had "beneficial effects on other hallmarks of Alzheimer's, including the tau".

The phase 3 trial involved nearly 1,800 people, divided between those given the drug and given a placebo, and ran over 18 months.

The drug also only targets those in the early stages of the disease with a certain level of amyloid build-up, limiting the number of people who could potentially use the treatment.

73% of global population over 10 own a mobile: UN

TECHNOLOGY

GENEVA: Nearly three quarters of people over the age of 10 now own a mobile phone, potentially opening the way to broader internet use, the UN said on Wednesday.

The UN's International Telecommunication Union (ITU) revealed that 73% of the world's population over 10 years of age owned a cellphone in 2022.

"Mobile phones are the most common gateway to internet use, with the percentage of ownership serving as an indicator of internet availability and access," the ITU said.

The ITU found that mobile phone ownership had grown steadily in recent years, estimating it had risen from under 67% in 2019.

Ownership was highest in wealthy countries, where 95% of people currently own a mobile phone, and lowest in low-income countries, where only 49% do, the ITU said.

The UN's telecoms agency says roughly a third of the planet has still never been online. But the online population has been increasing and an estimated 5.3 billion people, or 66% of people worldwide, are now using the internet.

WONDER WOMEN

Aus' STEM superstars include Indian-origin female scientists

SCIENCE

MELBOURNE: Three Indian-origin women are among 60 scientists, technologists, engineers, and mathematicians who have been selected as Australia's Superstars of STEM, an initiative that aims to smash society's gender assumptions about scientists and increase the public visibility of females and non-binary people, a media report said on Wednesday.

Every year, Science and Technology Australia (STA), which is the country's peak body in the sector and represents more than 105,000 scientists and technologists, supports 60 Australian experts employed in Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics (STEM) to become highly visible media and public role models.

This year among those recognised as Superstars of STEM include three Indian-origin women—Neelima Kadiyala, Dr Ana Baburamani and Dr Indrani Mukherjee.

Kadiyala is an IT Program Manager at Challenger Limited and has over 15 years of experience delivering extensive transformation programmes across multiple industries, including Financial Services and FMCG.

Baburamani is a scientific advisor in the Department of Defence, Science and Technology Group and has always been fascinated by how the brain grows and works. Baburamani is dedicated to supporting and enabling early career researchers, making science accessible and promoting wider participation in and uptake of STEM careers.

Mukherjee is a deep-time geologist at the University of Tasmania and focuses on what drove that biological transition.

Speaking on the occasion, Australia's Industry and Science Minister Ed Husic said that government is planning to scale up the programme.

SKETCHY LIBERTIES

Israeli filmmaker Nadav Lapid, head of the international jury at the International Film Festival of India recently criticised The Kashmir Files as 'propaganda', terming the film inappropriate for screening in the creative category at prestigious festivals. Lapid's comments have led to a debate over creative liberty in filmmaking. CE speaks to prominent filmmakers in the city who share their thoughts

Sagar Puranik, director

WHEN we're dealing with sensitive issues, the only creative liberty we can take is with the cinema aspect of it, as in the packaging of the film. The content needs to be as accurate as possible, especially when it can trigger extreme reactions that can hurt or offend people. I also feel we need to be careful when speaking of such sensitive issues on international platforms like the IFFI 2022.

Shine Shetty, actor

Every filmmaker has the freedom to choose what story to tell, how much to tell and how much not to tell. I feel, when you tell a story based on real events, it should mostly be based on facts. At the same time, filmmakers will have to exercise creative liberty to make the story structurally sound and ensure it's entertaining. It is upto the audience to figure out how much of what they are watching is actually factual and what is exaggerated or outright false.

Abhishek Iyengar, filmmaker

These days, it's not too difficult to check facts about a particular event. So, ensuring that a story you are telling is factual or at least close to being factual is not difficult. When a story is based on historical events, it's inevitable that biases and opinions of the filmmakers seep in. However, I feel that filmmakers who take on sensitive subjects should try to be as neutral as possible and try to fully understand the picture from all sides first. But the comments against The Kashmir Files at IFFI were not right either. Regardless of the film's flaws, nobody can say what a creative film is. It all depends on the perspective. One person's commercial film might seem like an art film to someone else.

Shruthi Raju, filmmaker

I don't want to say I completely back Nadav Lapid's statements but as a filmmaker, you will always have critics. It's part of being a creative person. We're in a place in our country right now where people are very sensitive about everything. I don't understand the noise behind the statement. Lapid was a jury member and it was his independent judgement. I did watch The Kashmir Files and it was not a movie for me. I thought the subject was beautiful but the storytelling was not to my taste.

Sumana Kittur, filmmaker

When a real-life incident that has inflicted pain on many is adapted into a movie, the filmmaker has the responsibility of ensuring that their work doesn't inflict further pain. Documenting a historical event through cinema is very different compared to other formats and will inevitably require use of creative liberties. That requires filmmakers to be sensitive and understand all sides of the story. In my opinion, it's very inappropriate to show just one side of a sensitive story while disregarding important facts.

KM Chaitanya, director

A filmmaker has to firstly ensure that facts are right. Number of victims, arrests, actual people involved, cannot be changed in the name of creative liberty. Changing those is manufacturing lies. Making a film is a political act. We can try to be balanced. But in the very act of weaving our story, our stand will influence the process. But what we must be careful about is the impact it will have on the audience. A film that incites hatred and bias against a community is a weapon of hatred disguised as art.

'Will be remembered for his composure'

Dr Ravi Prakash
(The writer is the president of Federation of Historic Vehicles of India (FHVI))

I WAS really heartbroken to hear the news. I was on my way to Mandya when I heard about what had happened. I sent a short condolence note to Geetanjali, his wife, and Manasi, his daughter. Today, I have lost a great friend.

I got to know Vikram through his cousin, Atul Kirloskar. We would go rallying together. Vikram and I became good friends soon. I feel really sad to lose him because he was one of the few people in Karnataka who thought ahead of his time. He contributed to the development of the industrial sector. He was very broad-minded and open to inputs .

I remember him as a friendly and jovial person. His ever-smiling face still flashes in front of my eyes. Being a person of such high stature, he was open to any criticism and looked at the bright side of everything. He was a great human being who we will miss.

His interest was only in modern cars. I had been to his house for dinner a couple of times, and he would come over to our place sometimes. We would talk about cars and he would be interested in knowing more about vintage ones.

He loved the city and I remember going to Windsor Manor a couple of times for food. He really liked the food there. He was a great host each time we went to his place. He will be remembered for his leadership, friendliness and his composure. The void that has been created is very difficult to fill.

FIT BIT

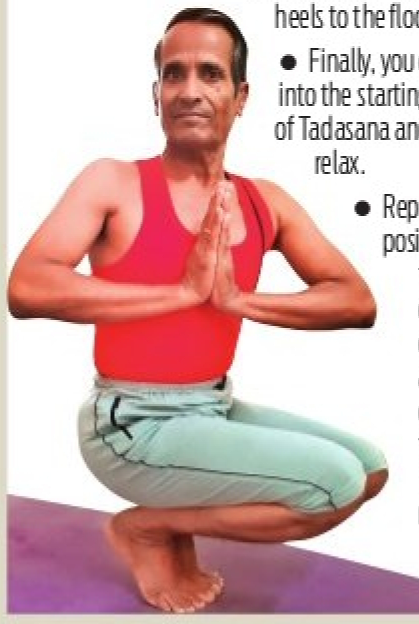
PARIVRTTA PRAPADASANA

(TWISTED TOE SQUAT)

It is a variation of Prapadasana (Toe Balance), with an additional action of twisting the spine. Keeping the pelvis, quadriceps, calves and gluteus neutral, the muscles of the back psoas core are engaged, active, energised, and in the process strengthened.

STEPS

- Begin in Tadasana (Mountain Pose) on your yoga mat. Then, exhale and come into Malasana (Garland Pose).
- Now, bring your feet together and slowly lift your heels off the floor.
- At this stage, you have to balance your body on your toes and keep your back straight.
- Bring your palms together in Namaskar position, keeping close to the centre of your chest.
- Now, slowly twist your upper body from your hip to the right side, maximum at your convenience.
- Keep your focus in between your eyebrows.
- Stay in the final pose for about 3 to 6 long breaths.
- To come out of this pose, bring your hands down and then heels to the floor.
- Finally, you can come into the starting position of Tadasana and then relax.
- Repeat the position by twisting on the other side and then come to the starting position to relax.



BENEFITS

- If you practise this pose regularly, it will improve your concentration and sense of balance.
- Helps to strengthen the feet, ankles, calves, knees and thighs.
- Helps to open the chest and upper back efficiently, and improves lungs too.
- Help release the day's stress and tensions that may impact the lower body, especially feet & legs.
- It is more useful for stretching the hip flexors, hamstrings and groins.
- Helps to stimulate the Muladhara (Root Chakra).
- Improves your digestion and increases blood flow in the pelvis.
- Helps in losing extra fat in your thighs and belly.
- Can be an independent practice to help practitioners gain better balance, focus and go deeper with breath-body-mind connections.

LIMITATIONS

People who have injuries in their legs, hip, knees, ankles and toes, or severe sciatica issues avoid this.

Senior citizens, pregnant and menstruating women, should seek a yoga expert's advice before practising this pose.

WEIGHTY MATTERS

Here's how losing weight will help in the management of arthritis

DR CHETHANA D

LIVING with Rheumatoid Arthritis (RA) can be challenging as constant aches, swelling in joints and restricted movement can affect one's quality of life. While the condition cannot be reversed, weight management can help in controlling the disease. Like any other autoimmune disorder, RA occurs when your immune system starts attacking your own healthy body tissues. RA mostly affects individuals between the age of 30 to 50 years and women are found to be more prone to it than men.

Can weight loss help in managing arthritis?

Arthritis can make you susceptible to weight gain, due to reduced physical activity. Losing weight is one of the most critical things that your doctor may advise you as it can prove to be highly beneficial in managing arthritis. Since RA patients have body aches, swelling and fatigue, shedding kilos often becomes difficult for patients suffering from arthritis. Reducing the stress on your joints by losing weight will improve your mobility, decrease pain and prevent future damage to your joints.

How can arthritis patients lose weight?

Lack of physical activity and use of certain medications make it difficult for people with RA to lose weight. By following some practices, patients suffering from RA have a better chance of losing weight.

Avoid crash dieting

People should avoid having unrealistic expectations of their bodies and must not fall for internet fads which often do more harm than any good. With short-term approaches, they may lose weight initially but results will be short-lived and may weaken their metabolic rate, affect their immune system, disturb bowel habits, heighten immune response and reduce their energy levels that can ultimately cause more inflammation. It is advisable to get a fitness regime and adapt a structured diet instead of crash dieting.

Intermittent fasting

Develop an eating pattern and create a cycle between the periods of eating and fasting. A balanced cycle can be where you fast for 16 hours and then eat for 8 hours. During these fasting windows your body will get plenty of time to rest leading to reduced inflammation. It is recommended that you discuss your diet plan with your doctor before adopting it.

Autoimmune protocol diet

This is a relatively new food-based approach that helps in eliminating unwanted inflammation in a person's body. It is a very restrictive diet which mainly includes meat and vegetables that improves gut health, builds proper nutrient density, determines food sensitivities and regulates blood sugar and the immune system to reduce inflammation and balance hormones. If this diet is followed for almost a month, then it can help you get rid of inflammatory foods, gut irritants, and immune stimulants.

Consume adequate water and nutritious food

Patients with arthritis need to be mindful while eating and should observe their body cues and eat only when they are hungry. Patients should also keep a strict check on their portions sizes. Additionally, arthritis patients must consume at least 4 to 5 litres of water to lose weight, boost energy and postpone muscle fatigue. Consuming adequate amount of water can help in feeling full for a longer duration without adding any additional calories.

Reduce sodium intake

For an average adult, only 2,300 mg per day of salt or about a teaspoon of ordinary iodised table salt is recommended. If the consumption is higher, then you will feel bloated and will gain weight. One should limit their sodium intake to 1,500 mg per day to avoid weight gain. For middle-aged and older adults with high blood pressure, about two-thirds of a teaspoon of salt per day is recommended.

Other factors

Measures such as getting adequate sleep, consuming foods rich in vitamin B, D, Omega 3 acids and magnesium and supplementing the body with glutamine can help with the cramps and can ensure proper muscle function.

Green Mediterranean diet cuts more visceral fat than healthy diet

The green Mediterranean diet (MED) significantly cuts visceral adipose tissue, a type of fat around internal organs that is much more dangerous than the extra 'tire' around your waist, a new study has revealed. The green Mediterranean diet was pitted against the Mediterranean diet and a healthy diet in a large-scale clinical interventional trial. Subsequent analysis, published in BMC Medicine, found that the green Med diet reduced visceral fat by 14 per cent, the Med diet by 7 per cent and the healthy diet by 4.5 per cent. "We learned that the quality of food is no less important than the number of calories consumed and the goal today is to understand the mechanisms of various nutrients, for example, positive ones such as the polyphenols, and negative ones such as empty carbohydrates and processed red meat, on the pace of fat cell differentiation and their aggregation in the viscera," explained professor Iris Shai of Ben-Gurion University of the Negev, Israel. — IANS

Simple urine test can reveal early-stage Alzheimer's disease

A simple urine test can reveal if someone has early-stage Alzheimer's disease, potentially paving the way for an inexpensive and convenient disease screening. Researchers found that urinary formic acid is a sensitive marker of subjective cognitive decline that may indicate the very early stages of Alzheimer's disease. To reach this conclusion, the researchers tested a large group of patients with Alzheimer's disease of different levels of severity and healthy controls with normal cognition to identify differences in urinary biomarkers. Formic acid is a metabolic product of an organic compound formaldehyde. They found that urinary formic acid levels were significantly increased in all the Alzheimer's groups compared with the healthy controls, including the early-stage subjective cognitive decline group, and correlated with a cognitive decline. This suggests that formic acid could act as a sensitive biomarker for early-stage Alzheimer's disease, according to the study published in the journal Frontiers in Aging Neuroscience. "Alzheimer's disease is a continuous and concealed chronic disease, meaning that it can develop and last for many years before obvious cognitive impairment emerges," said the authors. —IANS

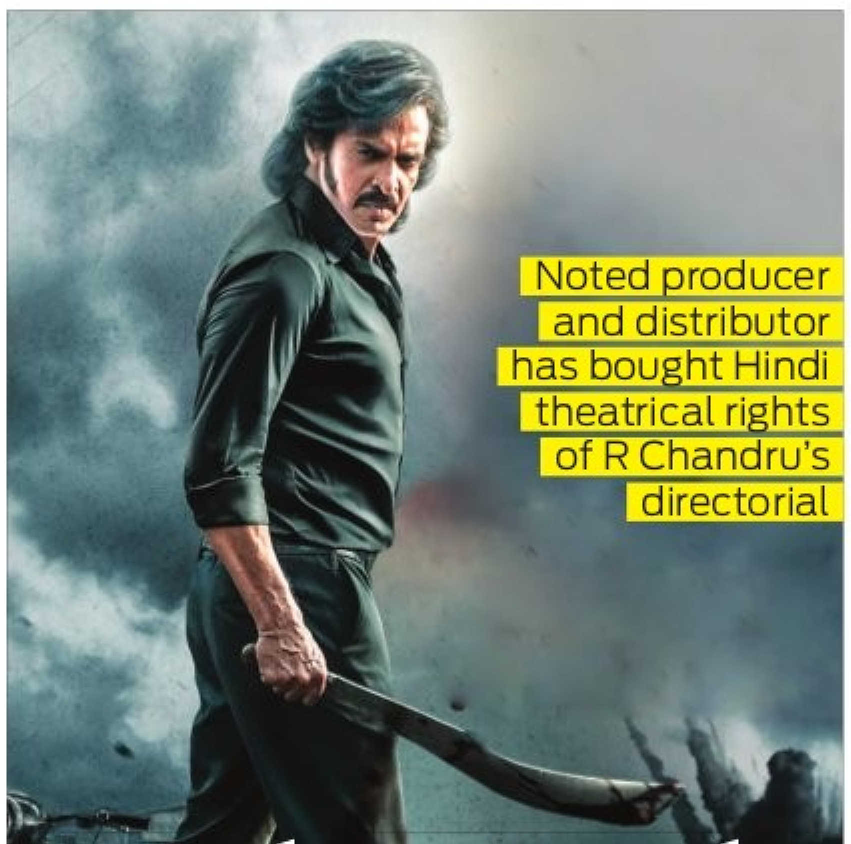
KANTARA HOLDS STRONG IN THEATRES, DESPITE OTT RELEASE

The Tulu version of the film will be out in around 50 screens across Karnataka, and 50 more screens will be added for the Kannada version

CE FEATURES

RISHAB Shetty's Kantara was released on September 30 and went on to become a major blockbuster. With the film entering its 10th week, the buzz around the film hasn't ceased yet. While the Tulu version of the action thriller is slated to release in around 50 plus screens across Karnataka, the production house will be adding 50 more screens for the Kannada version making it 250 theatres on the whole. Kantara, which registered a massive box office success across multiple languages, is still in-demand-film, despite getting an OTT release.

The controversy surrounding the rights of the music in the crucial song Varaha Roopam led to the removal of the song from the theatrical and OTT versions. The makers are expected to update the status of the song's rights soon and put an end to the confusion. Apart from playing the lead, Rishab Shetty has written and directed Kantara. The story follows the struggle between villagers and forest authorities surrounding a land encroachment. The film produced by Vijay Kiragandur's Hommbale Films has Sapthami Gowda playing the female lead and has actors Kishore, Achyuth Kumar, Pramod Shetty, Prasad Thuminad, Swaraj Shetty, and Manasi Sudhir playing important roles.



Noted producer and distributor has bought Hindi theatrical rights of R Chandru's directorial

THIMAYYA AND THIMAYYA WILL REMAIN CLOSE TO MY HEART: DIGANTH

The actor along with his wife and co-star Aindrita Ray talk about their experience of working in the romantic family entertainer that sees its release this week

Diganth

A SHARADHAA

IT is always nice to see real-life couples extend their chemistry to the big screen too. One such pair is Diganth and Aindrita Ray, who will next be seen in the upcoming film, Thimayya & Thimayya. Directed by Sanjay Sharma, the film also stars Anant Nag and Shubra Aiyappa. Ahead of the film's release this week, the couple sits down with CE to talk about their experience working in the entertainer, starring alongside the legendary actor, and more.

Looking at the trailer, one can safely assume that the film is a mixture of various emotions. "There is a lot of comedy and strong emotions. There is a good message about relationships, and most importantly there is Anant Sir and Diganth's combination, which is an added attraction to Thimayya and Thimayya," says Aindrita.

Talking about the various characters of the film, Diganth points out that even a bike in the film has a back story. "Even the costumes lend a certain quality to the characters," says Aindrita, who points out that just like the bike, there's a cafe that plays an important part. "Sanjay Sharma and his wife, Vineeta, have put their heart and soul into this film and worked in detail on the artwork, and costumes."

While Anant Nag plays the senior Thimayya, Diganth stars as Vincy Thimayya, and Aindrita plays their neighbour, Jyotsana. Shubra Aiyappa plays Vincy's fiance, Sowmya. The film is about Vincy wanting to sell his ancestral property, and go abroad with his fiance. This is when Vincy meets his grandfather for the first time, and the journey of the two begins.

Ask Diganth, how he wants to perceive this film in his career, and he says, "Thimayya and Thimayya will remain close to my heart. Ten years from now, when I look back, I will be very happy that I have done this film."

Talking about his experience of working with director Sanjay, Diganth calls him cool as a cucumber. "Though his Kannada was not as perfect as the locals, he managed to pull it off. Having done a lot of documentaries, he has also done his research on cafes, and that's when the story of Thimayya and Thimayya brewed in his mind. He is very patient with the actors. He had strong professional ethics, and worked in a corporate style," adds Aindrita.

This is the fifth collaboration between Diganth and Anant Nag after Mungaru Male, Gaalipata, Pancharangi, Mansare and Gaalipata 2. "His charm is brilliant, and we kind of complement each other. In fact, all my previous films with him have clicked, and I hope it continues with this film too. Anant Nag Sir can deliver a 3-page dialogue with ease, and even improvise on the scenes. I was scared whether I would be able to deliver at the level of his performance." Aindrita adds that Diganth and Anant Nag shared a great understanding with each other. "I was the nervous one when I had to face Anant Sir. I didn't want to make a mistake in front of him, especially with my Kannada dialogues. After a few scenes, I was in the flow," she tells us.

Is Diganth similar to Thimayya Junior in real life? "Vincy Thimayya has done a lot of things, and laid his hands into a lot of businesses, but hasn't tasted success. He is a biker and carefree, and I have a lot of similarities to this character."

With cinematography by Balakrishna Thota and music by Anoop Seelin, Thimayya and Thimayya backed by Rajesh Sharma is billed as a slice-of-life film. "It is a fresh subject, and talks about a beautiful relationship between a grandfather and his grandson. The film will highlight the importance of family bonding," signs off Diganth.

'Nobody can stop good work from happening'

.. says Naveen Shankar, who gears up for his second release, Dharani Mandala Madhyadolage, five years after his debut, Gultoo

CE FEATURES

NAVEEN Shankar hit the limelight with his debut, Gultoo, and in a surprising move, he decided to take time before choosing his next project. "Incidentally, I accepted a project, for which I underwent a major transformation. Unfortunately, the film did not take off. Moreover, when your first film does well, there is a big responsibility in choosing the next.

Since I wanted to do a content-strong film, which does not fit the regular pattern of characters and films, it did take some time," says Naveen, who is gearing up for the release of his upcoming film, Dharani Mandala Madhyadolage.

Directed by Sridhar Shikaripura, and backed by Omkar, Dharani Mandala Madhyadolage is a crime drama. "I am experimenting with genres with my upcoming films. While my next, Hondisi Bareyiri, is all about relationships, Nodidavaru Enanthare is a story told from a woman's perspective. I also have KshetraPati, which is about the agrarian crisis. Apart from these films, which offered me unique characters, the icing on the cake is the Dhananjay-starrer Hoysala backed by KRG Studios.

I prefer taking bridge films, which will serve a commercial purpose, and still has a strong point to say," explains Naveen about his choice of films. In Dharani Mandala..., Naveen plays a boxer, and giving an insight into the role, he says, "My role is someone who wants to achieve in boxing and has a good sense of values. But an incident disturbs his profession and personal life. How he solves the problem is the crux of the role."

Naveen shares that Dharani Mandala... has multiple characters in the leads, and says, "I am proud to say that every character is a protagonist."

Looking at Naveen's filmography, we can see his proclivity of making films with newcomer directors.

"The hunger and honesty that comes with a debutant director is special. They have a strong dream for their first film to win. Being a newcomer, I know the challenges the director goes through. They want to cast an established actor but might not have the budget. I consider working with a new director as mutually beneficial," says Naveen, adding, "Whether a director, actor or producer, we all have our own blocks, but I strongly believe that nobody can stop good work from happening," he signs off.
